Port Wine Message Cheers Gobs— Gloom—Pork Loin

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Petitions demanding a searching inquiry to determine who mixed the wig-wag signals transmitted yesterday when the battleship Mississippi came into port were being prepared aboard ship today.

The wig-wag message in question read:

"From sub-base to supply officer. When will boat be in for port wine?"

"Right away," was the answer as the entire crew, excepting the chaplain, volunteered to make the trip.

A motor boat sped to the sub-base, but it soon returned. An orderly saluted the expectant supply officer.

"There's a mistake in that message, sir," he said. "Here's the correct one."

It read:

"When will boat be in for pork loin."

"30" BULLETINS

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Grain and hog prices made new low records today in continuation of declines on the markets of the country. In all grains, new lows since the outbreak of the world war were recorded in the Middle West. Hog prices also dropped to the lowest mark reached since 1913. On the Chicago market, hogs dropped about 50 cents, with average sales at $10.50.

CROSS GETS PROBATION AFTER GUILTY PLEA

Henry Cross, 63, of Seal Beach, arrested some time ago in connection with a charge involving several small children at Seal Beach, and against whom a felony charge under Section 238 of the penal code was placed, was brought up for trial this morning in the Superior court.

Cross pleaded guilty, and was given probation. The probation judgment provides that Cross's son-in-law, residing at Long Beach, must take him to Long Beach within ten days, and that he must send him back to his home in Texas within thirty days. The probation plea was seconded by the district attorney, who stated that he believed Cross to be suffering from a form of senile dementia.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Victor L. Berger's attorney, Seymour Steadman, filed a brief with the supreme court today asking dismissal of the government's suit against the Milwaukee Socialist for violation of the espionage act.

MOONEY CASE WILL GO TO S. F. JURY

District Attorney Orders Probe of Alleged "Framing" of Evidence

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—District Attorney Brady announced today he would reopen the Thomas Mooney case before the county grand jury immediately.

The announcement was the result of the charge of Detective Draper Hand, who was active in gathering evidence on which Mooney was convicted of murder in connection with the San Francisco Preparedness Day bomb explosion of 1916, that the evidence against Mooney was "framed."

Brady declared that after the grand jury investigates the case the result of the investigation will be forwarded to Governor Stephens.

"Governor Stephens is the only man in the world who can aid Mooney," Brady said.

LATE RAINS AGAIN RAISE SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 22.—Rain has fallen throughout the Sacramento valley at intervals since noon yesterday.

The river here continues to rise, although it has begun to subside above Colusa.

Continued showers for the next two or three days would bring about a flood condition in the lower Sacramento valley and would cause heavy damage, said H. N. Taylor, local weather man, today.

The discharge of the American, Feather and Yuba rivers into the Sacramento is a cause of worry to valley farmers. The rivers are rising rapidly, increasing the burden of the Sacramento.

POLICE SEEK FORMER MAID IN DENTON HOME

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Attaches of the district attorney's office here plan a nation-wide search for Mrs. Sarah Devlin, former maid in the residence of Jacob C. Denton, for whose murder Mrs. Louise R. Peete is to be tried in January.

No trace has been found of Mrs. Devlin since the day Denton's body was discovered in the basement crypt of his home.

SEEK NUDE WOMAN AS HOSPITAL THIEF

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—An agile "back-to-nature" woman prowler, who wore little or nothing when she invaded the nurses' quarters of the county hospital, was sought by police here today.

Clothing belonging to eight nurses was stolen. One nurse told the police she was awakened and caught a glimpse in the semi-darkness of a woman, nude except for black stockings and shoes, walking out a rear door.

Dainty footprints were discerned in the yard alongside a fence which the intruder is believed to have scaled.

No blame has been attached to Purcell, the university officials declare.

ARMY TO AID SUFFERING ARMENIA

Assembly Plans to Stop Hostilities; U. S. May Assist

GENEVA, Nov. 22.—The league of nations today summoned the league council to take immediate steps to aid Armenia.

Voting unanimously for the first time, the assembly adopted the resolution presented by M. Rene Viviani, of France, to summon the council this afternoon, with the committee to which the Armenian commission was referred to determine the scope of the league's action.

The action came after long debate in the assembly's forenoon session. The plan of M. La Fontaine, of Belgium, for the appointment of a commission of six to seek means of halting hostilities between Armenia and Turkish nationalists received strong support. Lord Robert Cecil was one to approve the plan.

FAVOR MILITARY AID
Under the plan adopted, the committee of six is to be appointed to advise with the council in determining action.

Every delegate speaking on the Armenian question heretofore has demanded either the league or the allies send military aid to the little nation. The assembly's decision to dispatch a small force to Vilna to supervise a plebiscite was used as a lever to force military aid in behalf of Armenia.

Three thousand international troops will be sent to Vilna immediately, it was announced today.

Spanish, French, Belgian and British soldiers will comprise the force to supervise a plebiscite to determine whether Vilna shall be Polish or Lithuanian.

Spanish co-operation was assured by Premier Dato who denied his country had refused to contribute troops to the expedition.

Germany's protest against assigning of mandates to her former colonies without permitting her a voice was disconcerting to assembly leaders.

The demand arrived just as the supreme council had reached a deadlock on the matter of organizing a mandate commission which was expected to distribute mandates as previously agreed by the allies.

Gas in Future Wars
The use of poison gas in war time cannot be suppressed, according to a report from the permanent advisory commission on military, naval and air questions. The commission's entire report will be submitted for debate in the assembly within a short time.

Dr. Nansen, Norwegian explorer, declared during debate that sixty thousand men and an expenditure of ten million pounds would be necessary to save Armenia. He asserted her full share.

During the discussion it was asserted while America has refused a mandate over Armenia, she has expressed willingness to send a fleet to aid the country.

graphic dispatches be sent all the world powers asking steps to be taken for Armenian assistance.

The league commission considering the admission of new members adopted rules today directed at Germany and Russia.

It was decided that no state shall be admitted to the league until she has fulfilled the international obligations, has a responsible government capable of contracting engagements, has an organization warranting the league's belief that she is capable of carrying out her obligations and has exact frontiers.

The first of the rules was directed at Germany and the others at Russia.

The committee favors the following:

HOOPER LOOMING AS HARDING'S LABOR CHIEF

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Herbert Hoover within the past week has come to the front as one of the "possibilities" for the position of secretary of labor in the cabinet of President-elect Harding, political observers here believed today.

ABOARD THE STEAMSHIP PAR-
ISMINA, Nov. 22.—President-elect Harding's cabinet will be composed entirely of Republicans and will not be a coalition cabinet, according to the opinion of persons close to Harding.

The report that Sen. Chamberlain, Democrat, Oregon, would be named secretary of war, was declared to be unfounded, although Chamberlain is a close personal friend of the president-elect.

In an address carrying Harding and his party on a pleasure trip to Panama, continued to sail through quiet tropical seas today and it was expected the destination will be reached early tomorrow.

HOIST BLACK FLAG ON SIGNING TREATY

BUDAPEST, Nov. 22.—When the peace treaty between Hungary and the Entente Allies came up in the National assembly the deputies rose and sang the national anthem and then voted for ratification amid absolute silence. The Christian Nationalists, Slovaks, Croats, Germans, Western Hungarians and members of the Extreme Left departed from the chamber. It was ordered that the black flag of mourning should fly over public buildings.

In an address lamenting the crushing weight of the terms imposed, Karl Huszar, former premier, brought tears to many eyes. Count Teleky, the premier, proposed that he be tried for his part in negotiating and ratifying the treaty, but the deputies voted unanimously their refusal against such a step.

DISPUTE OIL RIGHTS OVER MANDATE CASES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Through dispatch of another note to Great Britain, the State Department has taken another step in its effort to develop a clear definition of the rights of all powers in mandate territories. Officials here refused to discuss the note's contents.

The new note is one of a series which had its origin in reports that the British and French governments at the San Remo conference last spring negotiated an agreement by which the oil rights in the British mandate territory of Mesopotamia were to be divided between the two countries. The United States is understood to have taken the position from the first that all the powers should possess equal rights in the exploitation of mandate countries.

The company was awarded $5,000,000 for the island by a jury decision, from which the government appealed.

Interest on the award has amounted to $1,000,000 since the island was taken August 7, 1907, the brief states.

SOLDIERS ON GUARD IN LONDON AGAINST SINN FEIN OUTBREAK

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Spread of assassinations to England was feared here today following Dublin's red Sunday. Heavy guards were established in Whitehall and Downing street and large bodies of troops were reported held in readiness for quick dispatch to Ireland.

A wild uproar over the Dublin situation compelled the suspension of the session today of the House of Commons.

The suspension was preceded by a scuffle between Joseph Devlin, Irish leader, and several supporters of the government.

The London press called for determined action by the government to suppress further outbreaks. Punishment for leaders of the raids was recommended. There was criticism of the government for its policy of "condoning" police reprisals and "thus permitting outrages of this nature to occur."

Reports to the Irish office today said Detectives Thomas Ryan was kidnapped yesterday as he left church in Cork. Two other officers were reported missing and it was believed they had been kidnapped. Ryan was kidnapped once previously and black and tans threw bombs in the city in reprisal.

SINN FEINERS CRUELLY MURDER OFFICERS

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—Strong police forces today systematically raided Sinn Fein gathering places in search for leaders of the murder outbreak here yesterday.

The number of killed in yesterday's murder raids on British officials remained at fourteen with twelve victims reported in the counter raid of police at Croke Park. Ten were shot dead at Croke Park and two were killed in the stampede that followed the police attack.

Disturbances continued far into the night. Shots echoed through apparently empty streets. A number of persons were reported killed. Police and soldiers on patrol duty had been instructed to keep the streets clear.

Hospitals were reported filled with wounded, but official reports said only eighty had been injured in the fighting.

Fires along the Dublin docks were extinguished with little damage. There were reports to have been accidental.

All roads were blocked today by heavy patrols of soldiers and police, backed by armored lorries. All conveyances were searched for arms and all persons were forced to deliver any papers in their possession. Railroads operated no trains. The docks were watched as carefully as the other means of access.

Irish office authorities declare numerous important Sinn Fein documents relating to plans for further attacks on crown forces, were taken in the raid on Croke Park.

The Sinn Fein attack was launched at 9 a. m. Sunday, when 200 gunmen conducted simultaneous raids on the quarters of British officials.

A major, six captains and five lieutenants were among the victims. The raiders gained admittance to hotel apartments and private residences by subterfuge. Some of the victims were caught in their beds. Two were shot in the presence of their wives. The raiders withdrew from Captain A. F. Newbury's apartments, leaving the officer's body hanging limply from a window while the new widow screamed in fright.

The officials attacked in the morning raids were all connected actively in the search for Sinn Fein leaders and documents, or participants in court martials.

Fifteen men held up the Gresham Hotel staff. A porter was compelled to guide several men to the rooms of the intended victims.

Captain McCormick was surprised reading in the bed. His wife was standing nearby when the captain was shot.

The men rushed to the room of Captain L. A. Wilde where four shots were fired. They left Wilde dead on the floor.

In lower Baginbun street, the doors to Captain A. P. Newbury's flat were forced open and raiders filled the room.

Newbury flung out two attackers and leaped him and as the men departed the captain's body hung limp over the ledge. His wife stood by during the shooting.

Mrs. Newbury said the men wore no disguises and they appeared to be between 20 and 30 years of age. They did not search her apartment. In Pembroke street, Major Bowling and Captain Price were attacked just as they were leaving their bedrooms. They were shot as they stood in the doorway. Three of

The total time of transmission for a picture was eight minutes.

'WOBBLES' VOTE ON MERGER WITH SOVIET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Government agents are much exercised over a nation-wide secret referendum now being taken by the 500,000 or more members of the I. W. W. in America to determine whether or not that organization shall affiliate itself with the Fourth Internationale, to be held in Moscow next January, or continue as an independent body, it was learned here.

The referendum, it is stated, is the result of an invitation from a special committee appointed by the Third Internationale to secure the co-operation of the I. W. W. in the coming meeting, which is expected to be most important and the most widely attended of any yet held. It is expected to be completed early in December, when the result will be made known from headquarters in Chicago.

CHARGE PAIR FLEECED WIDOW IN STOCK DEAL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Frederick R. Copperfield, of Cleveland, O., and Miss Bernice Rose were under arrest here today on a charge of fleecing Mrs. S. Coleman, an aged widow, out of $4,300 in an oil stock scheme.

Mrs. Coleman asserted that Miss Rose, an acquaintance, had urged her to purchase the stock. It was not delivered although she paid for it and was given a receipt for her and Miss Rose were together when they were taken into custody.

TOOK THEIR ADVICE
DENVER, Nov. 22.—Alonso J. Goostroll complained of a pain in his back. Friends advised him to take rough on rats. "I was terribly sick all night," Alonso told the police surgeon who was called to relieve him.

TURKEY DINNER COST 'DOPED' OUT HERE

Using a family of five as the basis for obtaining statistics on the price of the usual Thanksgiving turkey and the "fixings," an interested consumer in Santa Ana today "doped out" the cost to one person for a real meal at not less than $1.30 and not more than $1.80.

The first discovery was that a turkey, the paramount requisite for a Thanksgiving dinner, must weigh in the neighborhood of eight pounds in order to furnish a real meal for five persons. In fact, that is more than they will eat but the meat man asserts that very few turkeys can be found on the market weighing less than eight pounds.

The cost of turkey varies. Specially fed turkeys are retailing at 75 cents a pound but ordinary ones can be obtained for 60 and 65 cents. Basing the cost of the turkey at 60 cents, the lowest market price, it was easy to "dope" the cost of an eight-pounder.

A four-pound chicken, which would be just about enough for five people, would cost $2.40, but there would be nothing left over for Friday and Saturday as in the case of the turkey.

Cranberries next. Cranberries came next on the program of investigation. These were found to be selling at two pounds for 45 cents. Cranberry sauce is indispensable and for five people would take about two pounds.

Then, there are potatoes. Two pounds of sweet and Irish potatoes would be necessary for five people. At five cents per pound, the potatoes would cost 20 cents.

And mince pie. What would a Thanksgiving dinner be without mince pie? This, the storeman said, will cost 35 cents, for he said it would take a pound.

Pumpkin pie is included. An ordinary sized pumpkin weighs about ten pounds, which, at three cents per pound, would cost 30 cents.

A dozen oysters for the stuffing of the turkey will cost 40 cents, the storekeeper said, or if any one wishes a quart they can pay $1.25.

And of course there must be ice cream, which costs 70 cents a quart, milk at 18 cents a quart, two loaves of bread for 23 cents, a pound of butter for 72 cents, about 15 cents' worth of coffee, four pounds of tomatoes for 10 cents, and a pint of pickles for 40 cents.

Local restaurants are quoting good turkey dinners for $1.50. This includes all the necessary "fixings," but not the home atmosphere.

From this it was deduced that five people would pay $5.93 if they eat turkey and only a dozen oysters. This would make about $1.80 for each person. But, if chicken should be substituted for turkey, the dinner for the five would amount to only $6.63 or $1.32½.

HARDING TO RESIGN SEAT AFTER JAN. 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—President-elect Harding will resign his seat in the Senate just as soon after January 1 as Harry L. Davis, the new Republican governor in Ohio, can appoint Senator Frank B. Willis to fill the vacancy, it was learned here.

The resignation will be purposely delayed until that time to prevent Governor Cox from appointing a Democrat, thereby threatening control of the senate during the coming session, at which the Republicans will carry out an extensive pre-inaugural party program which will be arranged within the next few days.

Belief was expressed here that David Jayne Hill of New York, a bitter opponent of the present league of nations, has a far better chance of becoming secretary of state than Mr. Root, who favors the league.

At the present moment Senator Harry New of Indiana appears to have the lead for secretary of war; Senator George Sutherland of West Virginia for attorney general; former Senator John W. Weeks for secretary of the treasury; and Harry Daugherty for postmaster general.

MONROVIA MAN FOR VAN DE WATER SEAT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Republicans of the ninth congressional district today were reported to be unanimously of the opinion that Monrovia Flowers of Monrovia, probably will be chosen to succeed Chas. H. Randall, of Pasadena.

Tentative plans were under way to meet the situation created by the death of Congressman-elect Van de Water, of Long Beach, who defeated Randall November 2.

Names in addition to that of Flowers which are likely to come before an elimination conference to decide on the strongest candidate, include J. S. Dodge, chairman of the county board of supervisors; Ralph Criswell, Los Angeles city councilman; L. L. Lottister, of Pomona; and C. H. Windham, former mayor of Long Beach.

MOTHER IS WINNER IN FIGHT FOR CHILD

Mrs. Frank Araiza was today in possession of her 8-year-old daughter, Christina, following the refusal of Superior Judge R. Williams to issue a restraining order leaving the child in the custody of her uncle, J. O. Corona, of Fullerton.

Christina's application in Judge Williams' court to be appointed the child's guardian in order to prevent the mother, who, he claimed, had abandoned the child, from regaining possession of her.

Mrs. Araiza a short time ago kidnapped her other two children, whom she was also alleged to have abandoned, from relatives who had been caring for them.

Judge Williams' action was based on the fact that Mrs. Araiza had an order from the Superior court in San Francisco giving her temporary custody of the child, and ordering any one wishing to prevent her from having permanent custody to appear in the San Francisco court on December 2 to show cause why such an order should not be issued. It is not known whether or not Corona will go to San Francisco in an attempt to regain custody of the child.

DANGER lurks in houses not disinfected at least once a year. The cyanide process kills all germs and insects. Leave orders at Mateer's Drug Store.

WILL APPRAISE 250 ACRES HARBOR LAND

LONG BEACH, Nov. 22.—A committee of five, headed by Charles B. Mullaly, has been appointed to appraise the 250-acre holdings of the Dock and Terminal company, makers of the Long Beach harbor, to obtain a sale price on the entire property and report upon the advisability of municipal purchase thereof to a citizens' committee of the whole. Thirty-five leading business and professional men voted for the appointment of the appraisal committee. It has been stated informally that the price would be approximately $2,225,000.

$500. GOAL SET FOR STRICKEN MEANS FAMILY

Further contributions to the J. W. Means fund, amounting to $26, were received at the Register office this morning. The total amount was raised to $500 within a short time, and, as considerable interest has been taken in the case, the possibility that this sum will be reached is considered good.

Contributions will be received at the Register office. Additions to the fund will be welcomed at any time. Those who added to the total today were:

FEAR OUT BREAK BY SINN FEIN IN LONDON

fears in the party were wounded. In Mount, Lieutenants Evans and Bennett were roughly treated before being dragged from their rooms and shot. Similar methods were employed in the murder of Captain McLean and two judiciary officers in his apartment. The murder parties quietly left the houses and mingled with the crowds on the street.

Police captured three men alleged to have taken active part in the raids and a number of suspects were taken later.

DISCOVER BODIES OF ADDITIONAL VICTIMS.

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—Bodies of several additional victims of the fighting between Sinn Feiners and British forces were found in the streets of Dublin today.

The confusion throughout the city was so great that it was impossible to tell how or when they had been killed.

One policeman was killed in ambush near Cork today. Another trooper was seriously wounded.

The biggest round-up of Sinn Feiners in the history of the rebellion was in full swing. Scores of leaders here and at Queenstown were arrested.

Detachments of troops with fixed bayonets were searching buildings in Dublin, Queenstown and other cities. Dublin was placed under what amounted to martial law. Heavy patrols were marching the streets.

Panic reigned in Dublin and many other Irish cities. Railway service was suspended. Resumption of fighting was believed to be imminent.

ing armaments for states applying for membership in the league: Armenia—36,000 men, five airplanes.

Rica—1,000 troops, the present sea force.

Estonia—15,000 men, 35 airplanes, two destroyers, seven gunboats and accessories.

Finland—32,000 men, six torpedo boats, four auxiliaries, four submarines.

Georgia—55,000 regular soldiers, 60,000 national guard, seven patrol boats.

Latavia—50,000 army, eight destroyers, four submarines, 1,500 mines.

Isoland, Lichtenstein, Monaco and Luxembourg reported they did not desire armaments. Lithuania made no report.

The British delegate on this commission opposed strenuously the granting of four submarines to Finland. The grant was favored by Japan.

TWO WOMEN, 5 TOTS DEAD IN EXPLOSION

QUEBEC, Nov. 22.—Two women and seven children were burned to death in the village of Padoue when the explosion of a tank of gasoline set fire to their home. The cause of the explosion is not known.

PLAN BIG DRIVE TO CUT AUTO ACCIDENTS

Glaring headlights, cutting in, lightless tail-lamps, passing at street intersections and other violations of the traffic rules will be in very bad form in Orange county after December 1, when District Attorney L. A. West inaugurates plans he has developed for patrolling the boulevards day and night.

A definite program has been mapped out for eliminating the many evils that make driving more or less hazardous. The force of motorcycle officers has already been increased with the appointment of Vernon Meyers, city marshal of Fullerton, to the squad.

This will give the district attorney three motorcycle officers with which to cover the county and he proposes to arrange their work so that some of them will be continually riding the boulevards day and night.

We are determined to make the boulevards of Orange county safe for motorists, day and night," said the district attorney today. "We will inaugurate a rigid policy of dealing with all violators of the motor traffic regulations and strict enforcement of the laws will be demanded."

Motorists Aroused The accident at Walnut, Friday night, resulting in the death of Congressman-elect Charles F. Van De Water and his secretary, Miss Janera Leubin, has aroused motorists in this county, as it has those in other counties of the southland.

Glarelights on an auto and a truck and trailer standing on the boulevard without protecting lights are held responsible for the tragedy.

The subject of strict enforcement of traffic regulations has been discussed at recent meetings of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county. The good roads committee of that organization has submitted written reports and urged that every effort be made to check violations.

"The public should be protected against the reckless driver and the man who apparently does not care for the safety of others," said D. Eymann Huff, chairman of the road committee of the county association, today.

"Near accidents are seen every day and every night by failure of some autoists to have the lamps on their automobiles corrected so as to eliminate glare, failure to have tail lamps burning, neglect to have tail warning lights on vehicles parked along the road or by drivers cutting in."

"These practices should be curbed. The violator should be made to suffer the consequence of his act. Stage drivers should be pulled up with a short turn for their utter disregard for others travelling the highways."

Cites Two Experiences "I had two experiences with stages last night that more than ever convinced me that drivers of the large vehicles give little consideration to the drivers of other motor vehicles. Coming home from Huntington Beach, I was crowded off the boulevard by stages at two different times.

"In the first instance, the driver was passing a horse-drawn vehicle. He evidently thought only of making time on his trip. I was approaching the horse and buggy from the opposite direction and was close to it when the stage driver pulled around it."

"I was forced to drive off the highway in order to avoid a collision. It clearly was the stage driver's place to drop in behind the horse and buggy and wait until I had passed. I did not try to contest the right of way with him. I thought he would slow down and let me pass first."

"The second near-collision came a little later when a stage cut around an auto and forced me to give up the road."

TRANSCONTINENTAL AIRPLANES DE LUXE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—American air travel de luxe, made possible partially by the postoffice department, will become a reality before the first of the year, according to officials of the Lawson Air Line company of Chicago, which has been awarded mail-carrying contracts amounting to $655,000 a year.

Air liners, fitted with all of the luxuries of travel, are being rushed to completion for the new mail service. A round trip each day over three routes between various eastern cities is specified in the post-office contracts.

Night service on the lines will also be started, according to officials of the company, and standard berths will be part of the regular equipment.

Very Thoughtful. The minister who made the following announcement seems to have prepared for untoward results from his preaching.

"There are some flowers here," he said, "for those who are sick at the close of the service."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

PLAN BIG DRIVE TO CUT AUTO ACCIDENTS

Glaring headlights, cutting in, lightless tail-lamps, passing at street intersections and other violations of the traffic rules will be in very bad form in Orange county after December 1, when District Attorney L. A. West inaugurates plans he has developed for patrolling the boulevards day and night.

A definite program has been mapped out for eliminating the many evils that make driving more or less hazardous. The force of motorcycle officers has already been increased with the appointment of Vernon Meyers, city marshal of Fullerton, to the squad.

This will give the district attorney three motorcycle officers with which to cover the county and he proposes to arrange their work so that some of them will be continually riding the boulevards day and night.

We are determined to make the boulevards of Orange county safe for motorists, day and night," said the district attorney today. "We will inaugurate a rigid policy of dealing with all violators of the motor traffic regulations and strict enforcement of the laws will be demanded."

Motorists Aroused The accident at Walnut, Friday night, resulting in the death of Congressman-elect Charles F. Van De Water and his secretary, Miss Janera Leubin, has aroused motorists in this county, as it has those in other counties of the southland.

Glarelights on an auto and a truck and trailer standing on the boulevard without protecting lights are held responsible for the tragedy.

The subject of strict enforcement of traffic regulations has been discussed at recent meetings of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county. The good roads committee of that organization has submitted written reports and urged that every effort be made to check violations.

"The public should be protected against the reckless driver and the man who apparently does not care for the safety of others," said D. Eymann Huff, chairman of the road committee of the county association, today.

"Near accidents are seen every day and every night by failure of some autoists to have the lamps on their automobiles corrected so as to eliminate glare, failure to have tail lamps burning, neglect to have tail warning lights on vehicles parked along the road or by drivers cutting in."

Cites Two Experiences "I had two experiences with stages last night that more than ever convinced me that drivers of the large vehicles give little consideration to the drivers of other motor vehicles. Coming home from Huntington Beach, I was crowded off the boulevard by stages at two different times.

"In the first instance, the driver was passing a horse-drawn vehicle. He evidently thought only of making time on his trip. I was approaching the horse and buggy from the opposite direction and was close to it when the stage driver pulled around it."

"I was forced to drive off the highway in order to avoid a collision. It clearly was the stage driver's place to drop in behind the horse and buggy and wait until I had passed. I did not try to contest the right of way with him. I thought he would slow down and let me pass first."

"The second near-collision came a little later when a stage cut around an auto and forced me to give up the road."

RELEASE PRISONER TO SUPPORT FAMILY

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Because his wife and two small children are in destitute circumstances and need his help, Arthur Miller, a first offender, now in Sing Sing for criminally receiving stolen goods, will be given his freedom next month by the State Parole Board, under a commutation on order of Governor Smith. His minimum sentence of one year and six months was commuted to seven months and twenty-five days. RICH YOUTH TAKES CHORUS GIRL BRIDE

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Broadway heard with interest that Jessie Reed, "highest paid chorus girl in the world," who is playing in the "Follies" in Boston, has become the bride of Daniel O. Caswell, a very rich and very ardent admirer from Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Reed said in Boston that they had been married at Pawtucket, R. I. Her husband confirmed the statement and said he had met Miss Reed in this city. Friends of the couple recalled many gay parties at which Caswell was host.

Reports from Boston said the young bridegroom had been disturbed over the manner in which his mother would receive the news of the wedding, but he had received her blessings by telegraph. She is Mrs. Elizabeth S. Caswell, of French Lick, Indiana.

Incidentally, Mr. Caswell, according to a Boston dispatch, admitted that he had been dismissed from three military academies and one college.

SECTIONAL GRID SPLASH OF COLOR TITLE REMAINS IN DISPUTE FEATURES BIG GRID BATTLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Outside of the Pacific coast, where California seems to reign supreme, sectional football championships will run in pairs this season. The great struggle between the Stanford and Princeton teams is the most eagerly planned. With the hills, washed clean and fresh by the rain, for the background, the bleachers a dazzling kaleidoscope of color, the weather a blend of sunshine and cloud made it ideal for players and spectators alike, and the rosters' sections blossoming into masses of brilliant crimson and blue and gold, it was worth the price of admission, even if there had been no game at all.

Inside, the bleachers were comfortably filled an hour before the game. On one side sat the California students centered about their huge rosters' section, which was inhabited by 4000 sets of animated lungs. Across the battle-field were the Stanford cohorts, their rosters' section a crimson splash of red hats. Sections crammed with co-eds fringed the noise making divisions; sections that were dotted and sprinkled with brilliant bits of color, for every co-ed seemed to have done her gayest hat for the great occasion, and gigantic chrysanthemums of yellow or red, armfuls of violets or huge clusters of scarlet carnations, tied with fluttering ribbons, adorned every body.

California made its first real noise when the team trotted on. Yellow and blue hats and placards maneuvered themselves into contrasting squares, changed color and performed various antics.

The Stanford eleven made a dramatically last-minute entry, scattering on only a minute or so before the first whistle blew. Then it was Stanford's turn to unchain a little noise and a few scenic effects. A flutter of red and white placards resolved itself into a huge red "S" on a white ground.

But the real stage effects came between the halves. Stanford led off when its band struck up a tune that made the crowds wonder if they were hearing correctly. They were; it was the funeral march, and the rosters sang in slow and lugubrious tones, "We're going to bury you, California." Then, on the field of white, appeared a neat little coffin outline with a yellow C comfortably ensconced therein—immediately succeeded by a giant crimson axe lest there should be any doubt as to the method of execution.

Act two of the Stanford performance began with the sketching of a giant S in red on white; then, to the sound of the yell leader's whistle, it vanished and a T took its place; so on until all Stanford had been spelled for the most near-sighted to read.

Stanford subsided and California took up the entertainment. First on a field of blue, appeared a yellow C of modest size. Then there was a flutter of placards and a larger C was there. Again the placards turned, and a full-grown C of herculean proportions filled the field. Flutter—and there was a yellow border to the blue field. Flutter—and the whole picture reversed its color. Flutter—and the blue C became a medium-sized blue C. One last flutter and the medium-sized C was a little C—then the show was over and the rosters hastily crawled back into their overcoats.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—If Belasco himself had designed the day and the setting for the California Stanford football battle, Saturday, the surroundings for the great struggle could not have been more cunningly planned. OLIVE GROWERS ARE FACING POOR CROP

VENTURA, Nov. 22.—Olive growers in a quandary this season. The crop is said to be hardly up to the average, and there is no market. One Carpinteria grocer reports that he has sold his crop for $110 a ton, but he has received no cash for the crop as yet. Local growers declare that this is an unusually good price if the money were paid on delivery. Last year the crop brought from $50 to $90 a ton, but the demand was not large.

At the beginning of the spring season the groves flowered heavily and there was prospect for a heavy crop. The lack of moisture, due to the dry year, cut down the crop enormously, it is said, and it is this fact that brings the harvest time with a crop below the average.

EVENING PARTY FOR YOUNG PEOPLE AT MONTGOMERY HOME

Misses Gertrude and Louise Montgomery were hostesses on Saturday evening at their home, 1418 North Main, to a number of young people, who came from Long Beach, Anaheim, Orange, Santa Ana and Tustin.

Delicate shaded chrysanthemums formed the house decoration. At the close of the game of progressive forty-two, Mrs. C. A. Nisson, of Tustin, was awarded the ladies' prize and Mr. Robert Gregg, of Anaheim, the gentlemen's. James Hunt received the consolation prize.

Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake, coffee, nuts and sugared mints, were served at the close of the game. Each table was centered with a crystal basket filled with chrysanthemums. The ice cream moulds and nut cups also carried out the color scheme in delicate tints of pink and lavender.

SUNFLOWER ENSILAGE FOR COW FEED, PLAN

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 22.—Experiments to determine the value of sunflower ensilage as a ration comparable to corn ensilage are being made at the University of Illinois by Dr. Oliver R. Overman, assistant professor of dairy chemistry, and C. S. Rhode of the extension department. The research includes a tabulation of the cost, possibility of crop failure, and quantity and quality of milk produced as compared to the figures for corn feeds.

Unnecessary Heroism.

A policeman walking along saw a youngster crying. "What's the matter?" he queried.

The youngster pointed to a hat which was bobbing up and down in the middle of the canal.

"My brother," he sobbed.

"In a flash the courageous policeman plunged into the water. He came up, but with the hat only.

"Can't find him," he gasped. "Where was he standing when he fell in?"

TENT STOLEN

Mr. McFadden, a ranch owner near Irvine, has reported to Sheriff C. E. Jackson the theft of an army tent and a box of tractor tools. It is thought that the articles were taken by Mexicans who recently worked in that vicinity.

IDENTITY OF SLAIN BANDIT IS MYSTERY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Sheriff Clute today still is endeavoring to obtain positive identification of a bandit who recently killed Constable Glidden of Lancaster and who later was himself slain by a posse.

Cline said he believed the gunman was wearing a suit of clothes stolen from W. L. McCabe of Oakland. Information was received that McCabe lost a suit and money and jewelry in a robbery.

An Authority On Scott.

"Are you fond of literature?" asked Mr. Browdy.

"Passionately!" Miss Tubbs replied.

"Then you must admire Sir Wallace Scott," he exclaimed with sudden animation. "Is not his 'Lady of the Lake' exquisite in its flowing grace and poetic imagery?"

"It is perfectly lovely!" she assented, clasping her hands in ecstasy. "I suppose I have read it a dozen times."

"And Scott's 'Marmion,'" he went on, "and 'Peveril of the Peak'?"

"I just date on them!" she said. "And Scott's 'Emulsion'?" he said, hastily, a faint suspicion dawning upon him.

"I think," she said, "that it's the best thing he ever wrote."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Conclusive Evidence.

William and Henry, chauffeurs, were discussing the ill-luck of a fellow chauffeur, Clarence, who had the day before been fined for taking out his employer's car, without permission.

"But how did the boss know Clarence had taken the car out?" asked Henry.

"Why," explained William, "Clarence ran over him."—Harper's Magazine.

PRICE OF HOGS DOES NOT WORRY ALBERTA

CALGARY, Nov. 22.—Alberta hog producers are little concerned about any British subsidy of 5 cents a pound on Canadian bacon. As a matter of fact, there are practically no hogs in the country.

This is accounted for owing to the enormous price of feed last year, when the majority of farmers dis-

With the changed conditions this fall, when rough grains are plentiful, there will undoubtedly be a large number of raisers again engaging in the industry, but they state it will be at least 12 months before they are in a position to supply the home and coast markets, and that two years must elapse—even if there is a good crop of coarse grains in the meantime—before they will be in a position to enter the export trade.

A SPORTING EVENT

Considerable publicity has been given a man named Antonio Pizzo who has just completed a tour of 18,000 miles, handcuffed and riding a bicycle. He took a little over seven months for the trip, and collected a bet of $500 upon his return to New York for doing it in less than ten.

In the same issue of a daily paper which reports this freak adventure, whereby an able-bodied man apparently earned a little better than $70 a month through the display of a little endurance and nerve, is the picture of a disabled soldier, equipped with artificial arms. His face is seamed with suffering, but he stands beside his lathe smiling, because, after long months of painful convalescence and training, life once more holds for him the opportunity to do a man's work in the world.
And in the ambitious lift of his chin is no sign that he will stop long at any $70-a-month earning power.

There is nothing wrong in the first man's venture. It will be called a sporting event in the idle circle which he represents, and will afford a topic of conversation for them. If nothing more can be said of it. But somehow, compared with the courage and determination of that great army of men injured on the battlefields or in industry, but struggling back to self-support in spite of their disability, it doesn't seem so very sporting after all.

THE END OF THE WORLD

The end of the world is coming again. Professor W. M. Flinders, speaking at a meeting of the British Scientist Association at Cardiff, declared:

"There is only a minute fraction of the original quantity of carbonic acid left in the atmosphere. The decomposition of a few more inches of silicates over the globe will exhaust the carbonic acid, and life will then be unable to exist."

It sounds like a fearsome prophecy, with a tendency to make everyone rush to conserve the precious silicates instead of making them into aluminum cooking pots and silver cleaning polish and other such things. But after all, it isn't so very imminent a danger. Professor Flinders cheered his hearers by telling them that it will take quite a few hundred thousand years to produce the dreaded result.

Yes, and by the time the few hundred thousand years have passed away, and the silicates have decomposed, something else will undoubtedly bob up from the sky or sea or center of the earth, to supply the requirements of life. The good old globe has been supporting humanity in some form or other for a good long while. The conditions of living have changed greatly since the well-known Mr. Adam was cast out of his renowned country estate. Mr.
Adam got along without typewriters and flippers, and it is quite possible that his remote descendants may be able to get along without silicates.
Anyhow, it is a little too soon to begin worrying about it. Let us turn to a more solemn and vital consideration. How much did your butcher say your turkey was going to cost?

ROPE FOR THE REDS

With the overwhelming defeat of Gen. Wrangel by the Soviet forces in southern Russia, the last hope of overcoming Bolshevism by force seems to have vanished. The Allies could send into Russia armies big and strong enough to crush the Red menace, but that would be a burdensome and perhaps unprofitable venture. It is now recognized almost everywhere that Russia had better be left, if possible, to work out her own salvation. It is therefore a question of waiting for some new champion of freedom to arise in Russia and undertake a counter-revolution under better auspices, or else of dismissing any hopes of eliminating Bolshevism by force and trusting to economic law to accomplish that end.

The latter is perhaps the best solution, after all. If Bolshevism is crushed by force, whether from within or without, its advocates can always maintain that it did not have a chance to demonstrate its superiority as a political and economic system. Left to itself, with a fair field, combatting nothing but the laws of human nature and material nature, it seems destined to certain disaster. Relentless natural law and common sense will vanquish it in the end.

The universe itself is against Le-nine and Trotsky, and it may be just as well to stop worrying about the matter, and let the universe do it by its usual process of giving fools enough rope to hang themselves.

POLISH AND PRICES

The farmers came into a city from surrounding farms with wagon loads of sound, home-grown apples which they offered at low prices by the bushel or half-bushel. The grocers took a little flier in the home-grown fruits and offered them at a reasonable figure in quantity. But the public, which for four years has been howling at the high cost of everything, refused to be interested in the native apples and went on buying shipped apples by the pound at fancy prices. Why? Because people had no place to store apples in quantity?
Not at all. They liked the looks of the imported fruit. It had been polished!

Now, polishing may add to the appearance of an apple. Certainly it adds to the cost. Transportation for thousands of miles also adds to the cost. Neither adds to the flavor or quality of the fruit. This being true, the folly of the performance is sufficiently obvious not to need further expounding.

Such instances are fairly good evidence that neither shortages nor profiteers are altogether to blame for high prices, and that the remedy lies less in legislation than in an awakening to old-fashioned common sense.

"California"

San Bernardino Sun—Various writers have discussed the antecedents of the name of the Golden State, but for the first time, so far as has come to our attention, it has been finally located the source from which it came, although as to whether it was original with the Spanish novelist, he does not specify.
Frederick W. Lawrence—we are wondering whether this is the same Fred Lawrence who was a reporter in San Francisco in 1892 and 1893—is the author of an interesting article in the August number of the National Geographic Magazine in which he discusses "The Origin of American State Names," and here is his story of the origin of the name California:

"The name of California was originally given by some of the followers of Cortez, conqueror of Aztec Mexico, to what is now known as Lower California, whence the name spread to the present State. The imagination of Cortez's men had been fired by the reading of an old Spanish romance of chivalry called 'Las Sorcas de Esplandian,' in which was described a fabled island called California, where gold and precious stones in abundance were found, and they gave this name to the new land they had discovered. It is strange that a name accidentally given should later prove so descriptive."

By which we presume Mr. Lawrence means to intimate that the presence of gold was not dreamed of by these Spanish adventurers of the sixteenth century.
Certainly the name would indicate a Spanish origin, if one may judge from the sound as it falls from lips accustomed to Spanish, although numerous students have declared that it has no Spanish ancestry so far as being a corruption of Spanish words, or carrying any particular meaning. However, if we are indebted to some very early Spanish novelist for the name, some three millions of us would be willing to rise up and call him blessed, if we only knew his name.

Safety First

Riverside Press—
A police officer who has been conducting safety first classes in public school buildings gave his young pupils the following rules to memorize, and instructed them to go home and tell their parents everything they learn while under his tutelage.
The rules are:
Don't cross a street directly behind a street car or automobile.
Observe traffic left and right before crossing.
Don't ride a bicycle on the sidewalk.

Watch traffic signals.
Don't touch a wire which is loose or hanging from a pole or tree.
Use observation and caution and believe in safety first.

The rules are applicable to people of all ages and it is not difficult to see why the officer suggested that they be reported at home. The spread of this sort of propaganda is for the public good. Moreover, the mere fact that safety first is talked over in the family circle will give both parents and children a lively interest in observing it. The parents will feel a new responsibility in the matter of conduct and example, and the children a fine sense of partnership with their elders which will make them want to register 100 per cent as safety firsters. The effect in reduction of street accidents should be noticeable in any community conducting a similar campaign.

An Ideal State

Passadena Star-News—
It would be calamitous indeed for this country if it became the "practice" of the people, or numerous elements of the population, to respect and abide by only those laws which please them, but to evade or openly or secretly violate those laws which displease them. This would be an anarchy in its most dangerous form.
A general prevalence of law-evasion or law-breaking as affecting statutes that do not please certain portions of the people would destroy the effectual influence of the whole fabric of law.

Law is the highest expression of advance in human relations. Liberty under law is the most glorious heritage of a country like this. But when liberty under law becomes supported by license under law-breaking, then indeed will the very vitals of constitutional government be attacked.

The Roving Bear

TOO MUCH FOR JIM

Jim was drafted to the army when hostilities began and the life in France and Flanders made of Jim a braver man. Out of evenings Jim recounted tales to make one's blood run cold, while we listened breathless, speechless at some horror he'd unfold. Jimmie told these tales of horror to the girl he most adored, and Jim grew to be her hero, and his stories never bored. To an audience like Mary, Jim could very cocky be, with his gruesome tales of bloodshed and the cruel enemy. Mary's adoration deepened till she idolized her Jim; in her eyes his bold adventures made a hero out of him.

Mary's brother went to college—not because he wanted to, but because his ma and daddy thought it just the thing to do, and because the boy was husky, strongly built and rather tall, he was asked to join the 'leven and he answered to the call. Mary's brother sent two tickets on to Mary and her beau and, at her solicitation, Jim was soon induced to go. Now, although Jim was inured to the hardships of the fray, though he'd lived for months in trenches, viewing slaughter every day, he just stood aghast, astounded at the wreck and havoc wrought as the two teams clashed together, clinched and rolled in conflict hot. Jim confided then to Mary that the scenes of which he'd told were as naught compared to this one, for it made his blood run cold.

Jim no more recounts adventures since he viewed that football game, for he knows, compared with football, his experience was tame.

Worth While Verses

A MAN OF THE HOUR.

Out of the chaos, out of the drift,
Out of the brand of the mighty rift,
Out of distress and woe and pain,
Out of the storm of war's red rain,
Into a world all tempest-tossed,
Into a freedom almost lost,
Strong to venture and strong to save,
Good and honest and clean and brave,
Hand on sword-hilt, face to the foe,
Lifting a banner drooping low;
God in His Heaven has not forgot
The glorious country His sons have wrought;
Out of the front of the nation's van
In this hour of peril He sends us a Man!

TODAY'S TALK

By George Matthew Adams

I KNOW A FELLOW.

I knew a fellow whose lips stand out more than any other feature of his face. And they are drawn together so that they are almost circular in shape. But they are that way from whistling so much!

I know a fellow who has lots of wrinkles on each side of his face.
They extend from the corner of the eyes to the base of the chin. They are pretty deep, too. But they are caused by an overcharge of smiles!

I know a fellow who isn't known for his style in dress. He often forgets to wear a hat. And sometimes he forgets many of the little things that go to make up the ordinary rules that govern attitude and deportment. But he is terribly honest and when he looks at you and talks with you, he doesn't shift his eye—but looks right into the centre of all that you are.

I know a fellow who works "from sun to sun" and who will never be elected President of the United States or of anything else. His hands are rough and hard. His face is fine and clean. He lives from the profit of the soil. He has no ambition to be anything but a creator for others. He will never be rich in money—or learned in mind. But he will always be known as one of God's husbandmen.

I know a fellow who loves to work, and to play—and to "lend a hand."

I know a fellow who takes pride in what he does because "the gods see everything!" He is prompt and courteous, kind and gentle, strong in body and mind, and he never forgets that "there is room at the top." So he keeps doing the best that he knows every day—trying to make each new day a better one than the one before.

I know a fellow who finds more fault with himself than with other people—who sees the good in everything and who is not afraid to fight for the things in which he believes.

I know a fellow who doesn't hesitate to take blame when it comes his way—but who constantly strives to make no mistakes at all.

I know these fellows—and others just like them, though different.
Aren't they fine fellows to know—or to be?

"Ye Canna Be Baith Gran' and Comfortable"

At the regular meeting of the Sixth Household Economics Section of the Ebell Club last Friday, there was a symposium on the subject of "Remodelling an Old House," to which Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner contributed the following:

It is an old Scotch proverb which says, "Ye canna be baith gran' and comfortable." But it is none the better for being Scotch and none the worse for my failure to remember its author.

It is unquestionably a physical and moral and spiritual verity.

How well do we women know how uncomfortable some of our "grand" clothes make us. And how often have we heard our men folk rail at the discomfort of their "grand" high collars and narrow-toed patent leather dress shoes.

Similarly, when we try to be
"grand" in manner and deportment, in pose and poise, because we think the occasion demands it—how prone to perspiration, how very uncomfortable we feel! And even when merely in the presence of the kind of "grandeur" that is the Scotch proverb means—and that's the only sense in which I here use the word "grand"—how the manifest discomfort of the grandee starts a sympathetic strike in our own feelings! And of course there's another kind of discomfort in the presence of "grandeur" that is more on our own account.

In all architecture the incompatibility of "grandeur" and comfort is apparent, and in the remodeling of an old house it is often painfully so.
But mind you, grandeur and beauty are neither synonymous nor opposite terms, with respect to archiitecture. Beauty is not incompatible with comfort, but "grandeur" often almost always is. And yet a house may be both really grand and beautiful.

In remodeling an old house, all of its comfort and all of its beauty should be conserved—none of it sacrificed to "grandeur." And in doing this there is usually the maximum of mere economic conservation. But whenever aesthetic and material values do not go together, if it is financially possible to do so the aesthetic should take precedence over the material.

Comfort and simplicity in themselves are always beautiful. Beauty is a spiritual thing; to be real it must be felt as well as seen; and therein lies the value of comfort as an element of beauty. Bodily comfort soothes the spirit and enables it to sense a form of element of beauty that the eye alone cannot see.

I have seen old houses remodelled in such a way as not only to add to their beauty or comfort, but so as to despoil them of all of these qualities they ever possessed—but no doubt the remodelers achieved their own conception of "grandeur." Likewise
I have seen new (young) lives remodeled by social ambition to the same effect; young girls physically and spiritually beautiful in their very simplicity, transformed into a veritable travesty of beauty by the physical and spiritual discomfort of a spurious social "grandeur."

In making over our houses or our lives, let us be very careful to conserve real values, which are not measurable in square feet of lumber or space, or in square inches of nakedness of either soul or body.

Wanted--An Advertising Law

Dearborn Independent

It is probable that one of the measures which will be proposed at the next session of Congress will be the enactment of a law against fraudulent advertising, aimed at the promoters of wildcat stock companies.

It is said by bankers and agreed to by government representatives that the public has been robbed of millions upon millions of dollars of savings during the past two years through the sale of worthless stocks.

The government attempted to do what it could soon after the close of the war, but without much avail.
The Capital Issues Committee which protected the public from worthless stocks during the war, disbanded and its services were no longer available, the post office could not police the country effectively with the force and means at its disposal, and so the work was finally turned over to the Federal Trade Commission.

Efficient as the commission usually is in handling matters entrusted to it for disposal, it labored under a considerable handicap in this case, since there was much doubt as to its powers, and it was already deeply engaged in important work.

The investors' protective bureau of the Chicago Association of Commerce reports that there are at least a billion dollars' worth of wildcat securities being offered to the public at the present time. One hundred twenty million dollars' worth of fraudulent stocks have been driven out of the state of Illinois alone this year, and public confidence in securities, formerly at a very low ebb, has been greatly restored.

It is found, however, that the blue sky laws of the various states are not in themselves sufficient to cover the situation. There is a need, it appears, for a national law which will compel the promoter of securities to prove the statements in his copy before his advertising is given to the public.

The trouble with most of the laws aimed at fake stock promoters is that they do not operate until the swindler has fleeced a number of victims. The thing that is needed is a law that will lock the door before the horse is stolen, and there is good reason to believe that a national advertising law will fit the situation.

Having Eyes That See Not

Stockton Record

A man was found dead in his cabin at Tonopah, Nevada, last week under circumstances which indicated he had starved to death because he was too proud to ask for the assistance he needed. He had been a San Francisco man, an expert accountant, but a few years ago met with reverses and so probably had away to die. Careless, big hearted Nevada probably wondered how a man could fail to understand that anybody there would have been only too glad to help a fellow man who was as hard up as that. That's the way we all feel, at any rate after a man's death discloses his tragedy.

Yet the newspapers every day carry little new stories of people why by the circumstances incidentally revealed in those stories must be carrying a burden of want and pride, of struggle and sacrifice from day to day, month to month, year to year. Are we so dull that we do not see the signs of need until death reveals them in all their naked grimness?

It may be a woman, a mother bereft of her husband and with little children clinging to her skirts, who is staggering along the path not far from ours. She does not even know she is too proud to ask for help. She is too busy, too bludgeoned by circumstances, too weary to give it a thought. She may not even dream that she is entitled to help. This is her work and she is doing it the best she can. Yet if the eyes of us were not dulled, our ears deaf, we might guess that she needs go as far as China to spread the gospel of bearing one another's burdens. We might know that many close at hand are "starving to death," figuratively if not actually, for want of it, may be, only a word of encouragement, a steadying hand on the shoulder, a boost along the way.

Some of our fellow citizens, men and women, are even grudging the paltry dollar which the American Red Cross is asking for to carry on its work. They cannot see the sickness and misery which that dollar would relieve. If they could they would answer the good woman to offer their subscriptions.
Because they cannot actually see them as they starve, some are resented the help that is still going across to help Europe's orphaned children. "We have helped them for six years; cannot they now help themselves?" is the cry. Yet a man like Herbert Hoover thinks it is worth while to devote all of his time to rescuing those kiddies. Must we see the world stretched out dead from starvation like the man in Nevada before we can see or hear?

Me and Skinny Martin was wawking along jest wawking along and I stepped on a loose brick and a squert of muddy water went all over my stocking, me saying, 'Haw, look at that, gosh shang it, heck, that's a heck of a note, heck.'

Holey Moses, holey G, sed Skinny,
I dare you to step on it, I sed, and Skinny sed, I gess you do. Meening it wouldnt have eny influence on him weather I dared him or not, and I sed, Aw go on step on it, nuthing nits happen.

Then why dont you step on it agen yourself if youre so anxious? sed Binny, and I sed, Aw wats the use getting up a argewment, lets stand heer and wait for people to go past and step on it.

Which we started to do, and we waited a fearse long while and nobody didnt come past and we waited a fearser long while and nobody still didnt, Skinny saying, Gosh, wats is everybody? Ded? and me saying, Heck, this is only wasting time, thats all this is.

Im going to count up to 100 and if nobody dont come before 100 thats all the longer Im going to wait, sed

COOLIDGE DOES NOT FEAR HOUSE PROBLEM

BOSTON, Nov. 22 — "While the housing problem in the capital.

President-elect Harding owns the senator and in the event nothing suitable is found it is expected this will be offered Gov. Coolidge.

KIDDIES PROVE SELVES HEROES DURING FIRE

Children proved themselves heroes during a fire which destroyed the dwelling of Peter Letien, near the Anaheim city dump, Saturday night. The young people, neighbors of Letien, by carrying pails of water, prevented the flames from the burning house spreading to an outbuilding adjoining the Letien dwelling.

The fire, which was of undetermined origin started while Letien and his family were absent at Anaheim. When they returned they found the dwelling and its entire contents destroyed.

Letien, who is a cripple, has been taking care of the city's dump, being paid $25 per month for his services.

Citizens of Anaheim today were circulating subscription lists in order to provide the stricken family with clothing and other necessities.

There are five children in the Letien family.

WILL USE PLANES IN TRANSPORTING LEPERS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22.—Comes now another peace-time use for the airplane, the transportation of lepers without jeopardizing the public. The return to Louisiana and the Caryville Leprosarium of Willard Centlivre, local leper now held in isolation in the District of Columbia, is under serious consideration by the health officers of that district and the airplane is suggested as a practical means.

Already a return has been promised the man.

Centlivre was formerly under treatment at Caryville, but left for Washington last March. He has been detained there in an isolation hut since.

VICIOUS RAM KILLS AGED CANADA FARMER

SIMCOE, Canada, Nov. 22.—David Kelley, father of W. E. Kelly, K. C. of Simcoe, who lived sixty years on his farm near town, was found dead in a field where he had gone to minister to a sick lamb. He was 88 years of age.

The circumstances would indicate that he had very probably been attacked by the ram of the flock, as the animal was standing over his body when the searching party found it.

Coroner McGillivray was called, but on inquiring into the circumstances, considered that an inquest was unnecessary.

Sport For the Crows.

The bucolic one had been asked his opinion of scarecrows.

"No good at all," he grunted—"leastways, against the crows in this district! Only last year we put up what we thought was a fine scarecrow—a man pointing a gun."

"Well, what happened?"

"Why, all the crows in the field seemed to be feeding in that field, and while one crow perched on the gun and worked the trigger, another was falling down pretending to be shot."—Edinburg Scotsman.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF HERMIT IS CONVICTED

Krug's body was found in the embers of his cabin, March 25, 1919.

OIL BOOM RAGES IN NEW FIELD WEST OF S. A.

The entire section west and south-west of Santa Ana, and extending as far as Huntington Beach is daily assuming more and more the aspect of an old-fashioned oil boom district, according to reports reaching here today.

The bringing in of the big Bolsa Chica No. 1 gusher of the Standard Oil company has resulted in throwing the residents of the surrounding territory into a turmoil of excitement.

Leases are said to be changing hands hourly. At Wintersburg, it was reported, one man sold a lease on forty acres for a cash bonus of $10,000. On the following day the purchaser of this lease was offered $40,000, according to reports.

Hundreds of people visited the Standard's Bolsa Chica well yesterday, approaching as near the derrick as the guards would permit.

According to the belief of experts, a new gusher is due to be brought in within a few days by the Mid-Central Oil company, which is drilling within a distance of less than a half mile from the Standard's Bolsa Chica No. 1. The Mid-Central company's drillers are said to have established a record in drilling, having sunk their drill a distance of 1800 feet during a seven-day period. A rotary drilling outfit was used.

Yesterday the Mid-Central workmen encountered what was declared to be an exceptional showing of oil and gas. It is reported that the superintendent at the Standard's Bolsa Chica No. 1 has placed his men and teams at the disposition of the Mid-Central company, in event a gusher is brought in.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 22.—Hog prices reached a new low on the Kansas City market today. On the opening, losses of from 25 to 40 cents were recorded, the average sales being at $10.40 to $11.15, a new low for the last four years.

INCREASE ACTIVITY DURING NEXT YEAR

In a survey of conditions in California dealing with tuberculosis in the state, the California Tuberculosis Association today announced that owing to the serious inroads of influenza in the state and its aftermath of low vitality which makes exposure to tuberculosis dangerous, every effort would be made to increase anti-tuberculosis activity during the year of 1921. The work will be carried on with the proceeds of the Christmas Seal sale which opens November 25.

The survey announcement estimates that there are in California at the present time, 34,265 cases of tuberculosis of which a large percent could be cured if facilities were provided for early diagnosis and proper treatment. In arriving at this conclusion, the California Tuberculosis Association estimated that there are seven cases of tuberculosis for every annual death. On this basis, 1.7 of the 34,265 cases would prove to be reasonably incipient. Authorities state that 80 per cent of tuberculosis cases are curable if discovered early. The State Association estimates that there are probably another 8,000 cases that could be restored to a reasonable degree of working efficiency, and that a great deal of benefit would be given to remaining cases if facilities were available for that purpose.

Facilities needed, according to the State Association survey include dispensaries, visiting nurses, medical consultants and traveling clinics for early discovery and diagnosis of tuberculosis. Sanatoria, hospitals and facilities for home treatment are also included in the needs enumerated.

At present there are not enough drivers.

facilities in the state to provide for these needs. "The investment of a few thousand dollars in proper provision in each community for the care of tuberculosis," says Mrs. E. L. M. Tate-Thompson, executive secretary of the California Tuberculosis Association, "would produce very large returns to the people. The returns would come not only in improved health, but in improved earning capacity of thousands of tuberculosis victims."

MILLIONS ARE SPENT IN CHILD'S WELFARE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—For the protection of maternity and infancy last year the British Ministry of Health made grants totaling over two and one-half million dollars, according to information received by the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor.

Six years ago the necessity was recognized of providing medical and nursing care for mothers and babies in order to reduce the high death rates. The first year a small appropriation was granted but the results obtained were so encouraging that the appropriations have been greatly increased each year.

The funds are administered by the Ministry of Health in co-operation with local authorities. The local authorities appropriate a sum equal to the amount granted by the government. The service available includes instruction in the hygiene of maternity and infancy, midwifery and maternity nursing, and hospital and maternity home care.

In commenting upon the results of the work done in England for the public protection of maternity and infancy, Dr. Christopher Addison, Minister of Health, says: "The development of the services throughout the country in nursing, midwifery and other facilities, and the combination of the whole big effort, has been able to reduce the infant mortality rate in 20 years from 151 to 78. If we had had that figure of 78 during the last 10 years, it would have meant the saving of 250,000 lives in that period."

EDEN EXPLAINS ATTITUDE UPON JR. COLLEGE

While State Senator-elect Walter Eden, of Santa Ana, is convinced that the development of a state system of junior colleges is advisable, no action in favor of recommending the establishment of the system has been taken by the committee of the state legislature, appointed at the last session of the legislature to investigate educational conditions in the state.

"A report of an address that I gave at a meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Riverside county," said Eden today, "seemed to indicate that had said that the committee would recommend the development of a state junior college system. This committee, of which I am a member, has held a number of hearings, but we have reached no decision. Another hearing is to be held, probably just before the opening of the legislature in January.

"A number of the foremost educators of the state have appeared before the committee at its hearings and have advocated some plan by which the freshman and sophomore classes would be taken out of the state universities. The suggestion has been that the students of those years be taken care of in junior colleges to be established in various places in the state, possibly one to a county, possibly one to several counties, according to need.

Favors Legislation.

"I expressed myself as personally favoring legislation to encourage junior high schools. Possibly that legislation should be a state allowance per pupil taught in each junior high school.

"I favor the junior colleges for many reasons. The principal reason is that opportunity for higher education ought to be made available to every boy and girl who wishes it. By reason of the location of the state university, all students living around San Francisco Bay have a chance to attend the university under about the same conditions that govern their attendance at high school. They can live at home. These students have this advantage, and the state bears the expense. The student who lives a long way from the university possibly cannot afford to go there. An institution maintained by public taxation as nearly as possible, should be equally available to all children of the state.

"Then, too, many parents prefer that their children be kept at home during the freshman and sophomore years, so that two more years of home training may be added to the child's upbringing before he is sent away from home. By these two years, a boy or girl is better able to take care of himself or herself.

Would Relieve Congestion.

Incidentally, the development of junior colleges will relieve the congestion at the state university. Something must be done to relieve the university. There certainly is a limit to the number of students that any university can successfully handle. We must look to the future. If the university continues to grow as it is now growing, in twenty years it will have 20,000 to 25,000 pupils. It will be impossible, no matter how much money is available, for any institution to do work efficiently when it has a registration like that.

There were three state senators and three assemblymen appointed at the state legislature to make a report and recommendations upon educational conditions. Those named were State Senators H. C. Jones, of San Jose, W. J. Carr, of Pasadena, and M. B. Harris, of Fresno, and Assemblymen Walter Eden, of Santa Ana, Elizabeth Hughes, of Oroville, and N. J. Prendergast, of San Francisco. Assemblyman Prendergast died a few months ago.

The shoot was conducted by Nelson Arnold of El Toro.

Shooting for turkeys has been an annual event at San Juan Capistrano for many years.

CANTEEN PROFITS IN DISPUTE IN CANADA

OTTAWA, Canada, Nov. 22.—Questions which have arisen between the Imperial and Canadian authorities over distribution of canteen profits will probably be referred to an arbitrator. A number of points of difference have arisen, technical points concerning the nature of the original arrangement regarding disposition of the canteen profits, the valuation of stock in hand when the war was concluded, and so forth. Agreement thereon will be necessary, however, before the exact amount of the profits made can be determined and a basis of division reached. It is estimated that the Canadian share will be between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

ENGLISHMEN FORMING BIG FILM SYNDICATE

LONDON, Nov. 22.—English and American film men are interested in powerful syndicate which is buying territorial theaters to turn them into cinemas. High railway rates and charges for hotel and lodging house accommodations are affecting touring theatrical companies, and provincial theaters do not make as much money in proportion to their expenses as cinemas.

It is stated that one theatrical magnate identified with many London successes has withdrawn his capital from some theatrical enterprises to invest it in the moving picture business.

In the past two years seven theaters in London have been converted into cinemas, one is being converted and two of the best known of London variety theaters will be opened as cinemas in the new year.

If it had been possible so to reconstruct another theater in the pleasure center of London, to comply with the London County council regulations, it would have been taken over for pictures some time ago.

The object of the leaders of the movement to convert provincial theaters is to insure the exhibition of pictures in which they are financially interested. Begun in the United States, there is a world movement on the part of groups of producers to secure theaters in which only their films or such as they may approve may be shown. Here as in the United States the cinemas are getting into the hands of the financiers who back productions as well as exhibitors.

POLICE HEAD THINKS WORLD IS IMPROVING

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 22.—Agencies for good are overthrowing the evil and the world is becoming better, Col. Ludlow F. Petty, chief of police, declared recently before the Men's Bible class of St. Luke's Evangelical church.

"In my years of observation as a police officer I have found that only with the aid of public sentiment, gained through the press, pulpit, schools and the law can the police power become effective," Colonel Petty said.

"When first I came to Louisville," he said, "I was 16 years old and had no trouble getting in public gambling or drinking houses, and country boy that I was, I visited them."

"That was thirty years ago. Today the red light district, the roulette wheel, poker and dice games that flourished on Fifth, Market and Jefferson streets under the shadow of the city hall clock, have been slowly and finally cleaned out."

Colonel Petty said the dance halls in Louisville have been rated among the cleanest in the United States. The police alone are a small factor in this housecleaning, he said.

Before the war the American flag on Merchant ships was seldom seen in European ports. Now it predominates.

RED CROSS NOW CLOSE TO 3,000 IN SANTA ANA

By tonight, the number of members obtained in Santa Ana in the Red Cross drive may reach 3,000.

At 10:30 o'clock, 2,904 memberships had been secured and reported to the roll call headquarters.

"Last year the roll call netted 3,000 members in Santa Ana," said Mrs. Susie Rutherford, chairman of the chapter, "and we have set our mark for at least 3,000 for this year. The chapter will need all the money that it can get by memberships, for it has undertaken the financing of a public health department. A community nurse has been employed, and we are convinced that the community will get a great deal more out of the work than it will cost."

The appeal today is to the man or woman who has not had an opportunity to join. Many residents have, no doubt, been missed by canvassers. Some of the canvassers have reported that they have gone to some houses three or four times and have found no one at home. Those who have been missed may mail their checks to, or give the money to Mrs. Rutherford or to one of the city committee members: Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mrs. A. H. Lyon, Mrs. J. N. Anderson.

Practically all of the canvassers have reported. The Knights of Columbus have a book out, and there are scattering memberships still to come in from the northeast section and the industrial section.

Clubs Make Good Reports.

O. A. Haley, for the Kiwanis club officers, this morning turned in 259 memberships. The club had the northwest portion of the business section. Walter Vandermaast, for the Rotary club, which canvassed the northeast part of the business section, brought in 216 memberships.

Final reports were received from Mrs. E. L. Morris and Miss Pauline Parsons for the southeast section, where 215 memberships were obtained; from Mrs. Alex Brownridge and Mrs. C. F. Smith, northwest section, 425; Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Mrs. J. V. S. Pomeroy and Mrs. Ray Chandler, southwest section, 530; Elks, southwest part of the business section, 342.

Other districts have a few more names each to report. Mrs. C. A. Riggs and Mrs. J. B. Roberts for the northeast residence section have a total of 388 to today; the Knights of Columbus have 176, and the Chamber of Commerce, canvassing the industrial section, 160.

There were 154 memberships obtained Friday and Saturday at booths on the streets. Since booths are on the streets this afternoon, the chances for passing the 3,000 mark this afternoon are very good.

Mrs. Rutherford has not yet received reports from canvassers in branches of the chapter.

AUTO IS RECOVERED, STRIPPED OF PARTS

The Dodge car reported stolen last week at Brea from B. Y. Neal, of the Owl Auto service, Santa Ana, has been found in a field between Walnut and Pomona. The car was completely stripped of its tires, gas tank, and all parts that could be easily removed.

The theft is believed to be the work of professional tire and parts thieves. The car was equipped with a new set of United States Royal cord tires and it is thought that these looked especially tempting to the looters.

The car had been sent on a special call to Brea, and was standing on the street with about 300 other cars. This leads the authorities to believe that the car was chosen by the thieves on account of its tires.

The finding of the car by Pomona authorities, after a farmer had discovered it abandoned in his field and notified them. A description of the car has been sent broadcast throughout California by Sheriff C. E. Jackson.

REPORTS LOSS OF FORD TOURING CAR

F. E. Saylor of Orange has reported to Sheriff C. E. Jackson the loss of a Ford touring car. He stated that the machine was taken last Saturday night from in front of the West End theater, here. The license number on the missing car was 181-636, and the motor number 952-005.

CANDY EASES HUNGER.

BELLEVILLE, Mo., Nov. 20.—Locked in a box car at Buffalo and not released for more than twenty-four hours, Paul Harris arrived in Belleville recently. He pleaded exhaustion for having broken into a box of candy in the car. "It was all I had to eat," he told Mayor Bowell, who fined him $10 and costs for larceny.

PREDICT RUSH FOR ELKS' SHOW TICKETS

Rehearsals for the Elks' show, which will hold the boards at the Yost Theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, are progressing in fine shape under the direction of C. J. McNamara, and the cast and musical revue singers are rapidly getting "line perfect."

The Elks' show committee, composed of C. A. Shipkey, chairman; W. W. Wasser, J. F. Parsons, Sam Jernigan, R. C. Peterson, A. G. Flagg, F. H. Hammett, C. R. Alling, V. A. Rossiter, Lamont McPadden, H. M. Shissler and Sid Kimball, is working overtime to make "Purple Patches" a show long to be remembered. With forty-five people in the cast, special scenery, beautiful costumes and special music, "Purple Patches" will have all the advantages of an up-to-the-minute road show, it is promised.

The seat sale opens at Parson's Drug Store next Friday morning at 9 a. m. It is expected there will be a rush for seats.

POLICE ROW MAY GO BEFORE GRAND JURY

LONG BEACH, Nov. 22.—The civil service commission's hearing of charges preferred against Police Chief J. I. Butterfield has been completed, after a long series of protracted sessions. T. W. Williams, H. M. Haskell and Dr. A. P. Hamman, who comprise the commission, said they would take the matter under advisement and announce a decision "at the earliest possible date."

A final clash marked the closing session, and J. W. Wright, attorney for the chief, declared to the commission that he would place before the grand jury Detective Ben McCord, who charged that Butterfield had paid and coerced witnesses. Wright placed Butterfield upon the stand immediately after and the chief vehemently denied it.

TENT CITY IDEA IS RAPPEE BY SECRETARIES

That relief in the housing situation in Southern California should come through the erection of permanent houses rather than by co-operative effort of a community in providing tent houses or barracks, is the opinion of a majority of the secretaries of commercial organizations of Southern California.

This fact was developed at a meeting of the secretaries held in Los Angeles Saturday. The conference was primarily for the purpose of considering the situation and was held at the instance of Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber. The majority of the secretaries expressed themselves as believing that a "tent city" would be detrimental to any community that attempted to establish such a community home for strangers.

It was the consensus of opinion that efforts should be directed toward demonstrating that building of residences is a good investment, and that men of finances can make good returns on building operations.

Basing their statements on investigations which they had conducted, a number of the secretaries stated that there is little probability of building costs being reduced within the next five or six years.

Wiggins advised the secretaries that tourists are coming in larger numbers even than last year. He stated that the percentage of new comers who are looking for permanent homes is greater than ever before.

Metzgar was honored by being made chairman of the conference.

POSTPONE ACTION ON TEMPORARY BRIDGE

The state highway commission will make no attempt to put in a temporary bridge across the Rio Hondo, on the Whittier-Los Angeles highway, before next spring, according to a statement made here today by J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The bridge was made impassable a few weeks ago by fire, resulting from the explosion of an oil stove used by a camping party.

Metzgar and other secretaries of Chambers of Commerce were in conference with Commissioner N. D. Darlington and Engineer Patch on Saturday, being called into the session for consideration of the situation, developed by the closing of the bridge.

Property owners along the Rio Hondo have notified the highway commission, it was reported, that they would contest any effort made to put in a temporary structure. They have taken the position that there is a possibility of severe damage to their property by flood waters overflowing their lands as the result

YOUTH DYING FROM ACCIDENTAL SHOT

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Abraham Perloff, 16, Brooklyn, is in Kings

County Hospital, shot in the back as a result of an unusual accident.

Perloff and several other boys were shooting craps at Thirty-eighth street and Fifteenth avenue. Policeman Henry Killmer and another policeman were riding to the Parkville Station in a truck. When Killmer saw the boys he jumped from the truck. His pistol fell and was discharged. The bullet struck Perloff, day druggery to a minimum.

who was taken to the hospital, where he was booked on a charge of disorderly conduct. His condition is not considered serious.

A Nebraska inventor has invented a combination mangle and wringer, which, coupled with an electric washer, is said to reduce the washing of clothes to a minimum.

Local Wireless Men Await Results of Tests On Two Nights

TRY TO 'REACH' ISLAND

Weather Conditions Ideal for Experiments, Say Enthusiasts

The Orange county amateur wireless operators are chafing in suspense today to learn the results of a wireless test in which they participated last night and last Saturday night. The two young men are Malcolm Finley, 1633 East Fourth street, and L. L. Aufenkamp, of Laguna.

The test was brought on by a dispute between the wireless amateurs of California, and the Navy department.

The amateurs insisted their instruments were powerful enough to send messages to Honolulu.

The Navy department "pooh-poohed" the idea, and stated that it was impossible.

However, the Navy department was open to conviction. A special test was arranged for the amateurs. Fifteen amateur operators, owning the best instruments in California, were chosen to participate in the test.

Two of those operators were Orange county boys. Finley owns the outfit formerly owned and operated by Howard White, 882 East Fourth street, reputed to be one of the best

DELUGE OF GERMAN GOODS, CANADA FEARS

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—According to advices in the Trade and Commerce department the British people are taking advantage of the exchange situation to lay in stocks of German and Belgian goods. These goods are offered by the Belgian and German manufacturers at prices in francs and marks above the pre-war figures, but the franc and mark are at such a discount as compared to the pound that the price in Great Britain for many imported articles is lower than before the war.

Canadian manufacturers realize that the Canadian dollar is worth so much in German and Belgian money that a similar influx of goods into Canada may be expected.

MOTORCYCLE CRASH VICTIM IN HOSPITAL

Fears that the mentality of Carl Nordstrom, 52, of Tustin, who was seriously injured about the head nearly three weeks ago in an motorcycle accident near Tustin, would be permanently disarranged were expressed by authorities at the Community hospital this morning.

Nordstrom was admitted to the hospital November 17. His recovery has been slow and he is not expected to be discharged from the institution for several weeks.

LAY PLANS FOR NEW HOSPITAL ORGANIZATION

Active Drive to Secure Financial Aid Opens Jan. 9, 1921

In an effort to realize their ambition to provide Santa Ana with one of the finest hospital plants in Southern California, trustees of the Santa Ana Community Hospital Association today are quietly working to secure enough new members to form the nucleus of a good working committee to make an active drive for members, starting January 9, 1921.

The trustees are the only members of the association, which was organized for the purpose of operating a non-profit hospital.

The plan for the raising of funds for the purchase of a site is to sell annual memberships at $5 and life memberships at $100. The method for creating a fund for the erection of a building and purchase of equipment has not yet been developed.

The trustees, however, expect that financing of such a fund, will be an easy matter, once the site is obtained.

The trustees will meet on December 12, by which time they expect to have enough members to form strong committees for the drive to commence on Jan. 9. A site costing between $25,000 and $35,000 is proposed.

The trustees are Judge Z. B. West, E. B. Collier, Otto S. Russell, Dr. Willa Waffle and Mrs. Julia E. Saunby.

Plan of Financing
 In preparation for taking over the Santa Ana Hospital association plant on East Washington avenue, the trustees were named by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce to develop a plan for acquiring the property. A number of stockholders volunteered to contribute their stock and others were paid, the basis of payment being $70 per share. The stockholders

QUOTA SECURED BEFORE DRIVE IS LAUNCHED

Presbyterian Church Enjoys Banner Day, Setting Pace for Others

With a fund raising campaign setting the pace for all Presbyterian churches in the United States as a feature of the Sunday morning services at the Presbyterian church and an address in the evening on "Service" prepared by the Rev. J. A. Stevenson, as a special courtesy to members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, who attended in a body, members of the First Presbyterian church yesterday had an active and joyful Sunday.

The national board of the church underwrote $1,000,000 in the big interchurch world movement, $400,000 of which went into the New Era work. With a million dollar debt hanging over the head of the denomination, the national board decided on a plan of wiping it out by asking each member of the denomination to contribute $1.

Next Sunday had been set as the day for concerted action by all the churches in the United States. In preparation for the drive, Southern California managers of the movement wanted to put on an educational campaign in Santa Ana, prior to next Sunday.

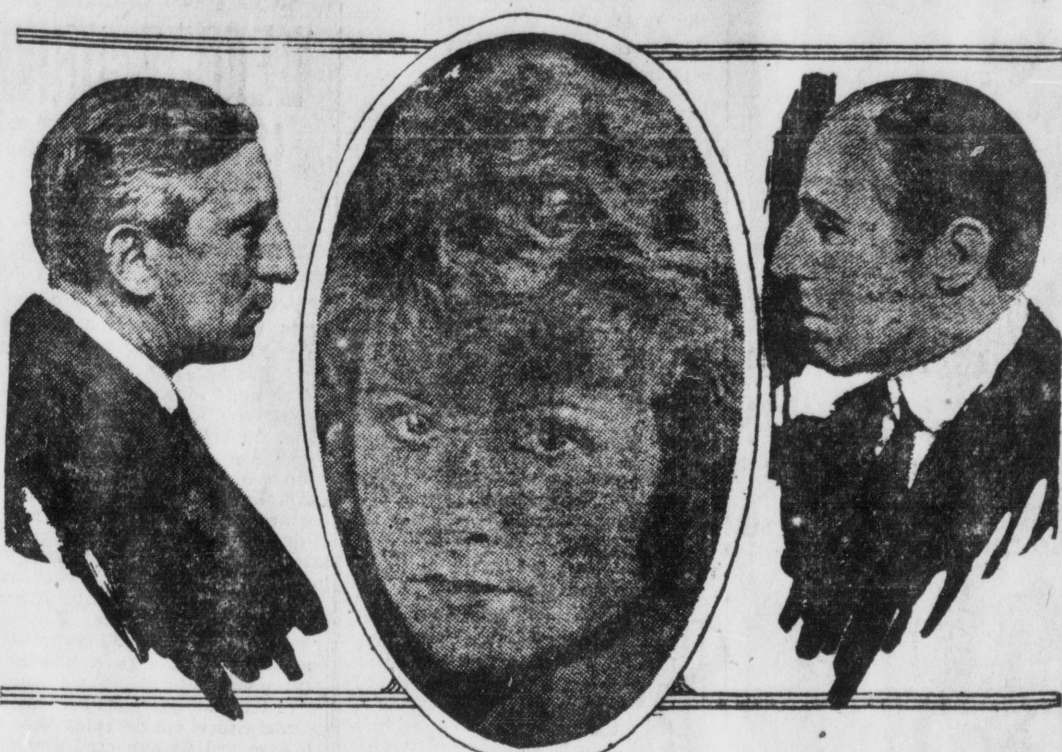

The Rev. Stevenson advised that this would not be necessary. His church had been assigned a quota of $1,000 and he felt certain that the amount would be raised without extra effort.

Yesterday morning he outlined the situation and plans to his congregation. When the services were over, he had the funds in hand and today he forwarded a check to National Treasurer Nichol, at New York, for $1,000.

A large membership of the Rotary

LITTLE LETTER "A" FATAL TO PLOT OF FAKE MOVIE DIRECTOR

Dallas society folks were highly pleased recently when "David Work Griffith" came to town and hired a blond salesgirl, Miss Olga M. Kelley, as his next film star, and "worked" society queens and their husbands for free entertainments. When the money was coming fast, someone discovered that Griffith wrote his middle name "Work" instead of "Wark." Now the fake Griffith, whose real name is J. P. Daley, is under arrest, accused of having forged checks amounting to $600. The "fake" Griffith is shown on the left, with the real Griffith on the right and Miss Kelley in the middle.

Three Methods Suggested for Reaching Decision Following Tie Game

Supporters of Santa Ana Team Raise Question of "Lost Time"

The football championship of the Orange league, which is still undetermined, following the 7-7 tie on the Fullerton field Saturday, rested this afternoon with officials of the organization, who were scheduled to meet at 4 o'clock at the Santa Ana high school.

A football team from Santa Ana or Fullerton must meet Santa Monica, champions of the Bay league, next Saturday afternoon.

Supporters of both teams were battling this afternoon with a fierceness equal to that displayed in last Saturday's game, to secure a decision in their favor from the league officials.

Three methods of reaching a decision as to the Orange league championship were brought before the board.

The game should be played off between now and Saturday; the merits displayed by the two teams in last Saturday's game

Ten Years Younger Than His Years

Doesn't it make you feel good—cause you to straighten up and feel "chesty"—when someone guesses your age at ten years or so younger than you really are? You look into your mirror, smile with satisfaction and say to yourself: "Well, he didn't make such a bad guess, at that."

The point is: You're no older than your vitality.

If a man is strong, vigorous, mentally alert, fine and fit at 50 he has a better chance of living up to 80 than a man of 30 who is weak and run-down has of living up to 60. While none of us can stay the years nor stop time, we should all make an heroic effort to successfully resist the effects of time by ever keeping our vitality at par.

When you sense a feeling of slowing down of your physical forces—when your stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs show signs of weakness—when you notice a lack of your old time "pep" and "punch"—in other words, when you feel your vitality is on the wane, you should commence at once to restore your energy, strength and endurance by taking should decide the issue, or a coin should be tossed. The suggestion of a play off before Saturday was met with serious objection because of the great strain which would be occasioned the winning team when it appeared at the end of the week against the Bay leaguers.

Against Tossing Coin. Tossing a coin, certain officials declared would be unsatisfactory in a decision of this nature.

Choosing the champions by the merits shown in last Saturday's game seemed to be the probable method which would be employed. Into this method there entered early in the discussion the question of a period of about sixty seconds' time, used by referee Sid Foster to clear the field of spectators and which was not deducted by the time keepers.

This minute of time, supporters of the Santa Ana team declared, might have changed the outcome of the game, coming as it did at the close of the final period with the Santa Ana team within two yards of their opponents' goal line.

Touchdowns on Flukes. Both touchdowns in Saturday's game came as the result of flukes. Members of both teams fought like demons during the entire contest, and first-class football was displayed throughout. Thrilling situations occurred time and again, keeping in a turmoil of excitement a crowd estimated at 5000 persons—considered the largest in the history of football in Orange county.

In the first period the local squad scored the initial touchdown. Santa Ana players hurried a kick by the Fullerton punter, forcing him to get the ball away so quickly that he could not raise it above the heads of the local team. Remsburg recovered the ball and, aided by good interference, ran 35 yards for a touchdown. Wilcox converted.

During the first quarter Fullerton was outplayed at every point. At one time it seemed impossible that the forward progress of the Santa Ana team could be blocked. A 15-yard penalty at this point put the local team out of Fullerton's territory and gave new hope to the Oil City team.

Fullerton rallied but could not gain. Time after time the local line held in the most approved stone wall fashion and the Oil Drillers were held for downs. Santa Ana was also held to small yardage in the period which resulted, continuously out-distanced the Fullerton team.

Fullerton Breaks Through. In the second period all went well for a short time until a Fullerton back broke through for a few yards and another play, followed by the favorite "tackle around" buck of the Oil Drillers, carried the ball over the 10-yard limit in three downs. The next try and were forced to kick. Wilcox received the punt with a clean catch on the 10-yard line. The Fullerton ends were down with the ball. Instead of tackling low and clean, the Fullerton player, traveling at a high rate of speed, caught the diminutive Santa Ana quarterback around the neck after the fashion commonly known among football fans as "necktie tackling." Wilcox hit the ground on the back of his head but hung on to the ball.

He was back in the game again in a few minutes, much to the relief of the Santa Ana team and supporters.

Santa Ana kicked out of danger and held the Fullerton team for downs. Fullerton kicked again and Santa Ana recovered the ball and was held for downs, again kicking out of danger. The punting duel continued with Fullerton having a slight advantage. Santa Ana was forced to remain in its own territory. In an effort to kick out of danger towards the last of this period, the Fullerton line broke through and blocked the punt. Miser, the husky tackle of the Oil Drillers, scooped the ball up and ran 20 yards with no one between him and the goal line, for the first touchdown for the Fullerton team. The touchdown was converted and the score tied.

Tries to Rally. Fullerton tried a last minute rally in this frame, encouraged by the touchdown and lowering of the morale of the Santa Ana team due to the narrow escape of Wilcox. The progress of the Fullerton team was not fast enough to beat the timer's pistol and the half ended with the ball in Fullerton's possession on Santa Ana's 20-yard line.

The third quarter was featured by a constant exchange of kicks and an inability on the part of either team to make required yardage. The fight alternated between Santa Ana and Fullerton territory, with first one team and then the other having a slight advantage. Santa Ana had a slight advantage at the end of this period and the ball was put into play in Fullerton's territory at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Santa Ana had the best of everything in the fourth frame. At no time in this period was the Poly high goal seriously threatened. The game was in the Oil Drillers' territory for the greater part of the time. Well within the Fullerton territory in the last few minutes of play, Santa Ana opened up with a brilliant series of onside kicks and forward passes that carried the ball to the enemy's 2-yard line without interruption. The demoralized condition of the Fullerton team due to this new and unexpected line of attack would probably have caused their disastrous defeat. They were saved only by the timer's gun for the end of the game.

TEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL IS SCHOOL GRADUATE

ARMANDA, Mich., Nov. 22.—Carol M. Hart, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hart of this village, is perhaps the youngest child in the state to pass successfully the Michigan eighth grade examinations. The girl is in the seventh grade, but through special tuition by her father, who was formerly a school superintendent, she qualified to enter the tests. Her brother, who is three years her senior, carried the honors of his class in passing, and was second among the 160 Macomb county students who passed.

and Kiwanis clubs attended the evening service, many being accompanied by their wives. A section of seats was reserved for the special guests of the evening.

Examples of Jesus Christ. Taking, "Whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant" (Matt. 20:27) as his text, the Rev. Stevenson developed a strong discourse on service along the line of examples set by Jesus Christ. He declared that all business must be mutually helpful and that the business man who is a crook is a "little business man and a great rascal."

Following are extracts from the address: "The disciples of Jesus wanted to be great. That was a worthy and laudable ambition. Jesus did not condemn it; he commended it. He merely made it clear to them that their motives and methods were wrong. 'The primitive man was considered greatest who had the most muscle. He could throw a stone farther, swing a club harder and kill more men than anybody else. Therefore, he was the greatest. 'The king was greater than the subject because he sat on a throne and gave orders; while the subject stood on his feet and took them. 'The great man, politically, has been the man who could get the votes and distribute the postoffices. 'The intellectual giants, sometimes the dogmatic theologian, sometimes the dogmatic scientist, have thought that they were big enough to hand down ready-made opinions for the world, and that the world must be small enough to put them on. 'Sometimes men have been accounted great because their expenses, wardrobe, automobile, taxes and handbills were larger than those of their neighbors. 'Greatness is a Quality of Soul.' The Kaiser had one of the world's great empires, yet he was so small that his own war jostled him off his throne. What has become of him, anyhow? 'Jesus was, is and will be, the world's greatest character. He had no house in which to live and was buried in another man's tomb. 'Jesus taught that you must go back of all powers, possessions and position to find real greatness. It is in the soul, it is spiritual greatness, it is the man himself, redeemed, taught, developed, capable, rendering service. 'When a man knows and obeys these laws he prospers; when he violates them he suffers. 'If a man puts his hand in the fire he is burned; if he puts on an asbestos glove he is unharmed. If he swallows beefsteak his stomach works one way; if he swallows ipecac it works the other. These are laws that work. 'There Are Moral Laws. 'A man may doubt as to whether God wrote them on stone for Moses, but if he violates some of them he will find that God has written them into the constitution of his own body and he will pay the penalty in a diseased body. There are certain great, abiding, vital words that refuse to become obsolete. They abide because God wrote them into the human soul. 'He that would be great, must serve. He knew. His life, death, teachings and subsequent history prove the truth of His message. The splendid things of the world are harvests from this seed. Selfishness is the canker in the heart of the world. 'Selfishness has caused fatty degeneration of the whole moral nature. The supreme purpose of God is the redeeming and development of man. The great man must have this same purpose running through his soul, like the great, unswerving currents of the sea. This is a great lesson for the individual. It must be the fundamental philosophy of his life. 'Lesson In Business. 'This is a great lesson in business. All business must be mutually helpful and the business man who is a crook is a little business man and a great rascal. This is a great lesson in politics. A public trust should never be considered a private profit. The distribution of the postoffices ought to be one of the last considerations, and human rights and welfare ought to be first. 'This is a great lesson for the church. She must foster a social service that has its dynamic forces in religion and a religion that finds its highest expression in social service. 'This is a great lesson in international relationships. It will be a fine day when the nations will vie with each other in their attempts to be mutually gracious and helpful. 'Some one says, 'This is the unrealizable dream of an impractical idealist.' 'All of the world's great achievements have been just that. The impossible plan of today becomes the achievement of tomorrow. It is because this world is to be remade by a Spirit, even the Spirit of God. 'This is God's world. He has never forsaken it; never considered it helpful and hopeless. He has ever filled the souls of His seers, His dreamers, His prophets, with an undying vision of the good day coming. 'Let us welcome that spirit, let us co-operate, firm in the consciousness that in so doing we shall find our greatest happiness, render our highest service and most fittingly fulfill our mission.'

OFFER OF $10,000 IS MADE FOR EAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Another offer of a left ear, this one a bit sunburned, but sizable and guaranteed of perfect construction, was made yesterday to Frank S. Quesada of Manzanilla, Cuba, who wants it to replace one he lost when a horse stepped on it years ago. Quesada recently came to this city for a visit here and made known his wants. He will pay $10,000 for an ear that matches the one he already has.

The new offer was received in a letter from Richard Armstrong of a small Oklahoma town, according to Acting Captain John Ayres of the Missing Persons Bureau, who received the letter. Armstrong invited communication from Mr. Quesada and requested the Cuban's address.

The raw materials brought from abroad by our Merchant fleet and later exported in a finished state mean new wealth for our entire community.

TH' POOR WORKIN' GOIL

Now Bertie was smitten on his blonde stenog; his brain often skidded and slipped up a cog and he got sentimental, as brokers oft do—yes, like artists and plumbers and bricklayers, too. Once he strolled up to Susie with eyes all aflame and spilled out his heart to the beautiful dame; he referred to her mouth as a "rosebud," and said, "Just give us a kiss and suppose that we wed." Now Susie was hired to pound on the keys and, with her, stenography was a disease. She gave Bert a glance that went clear through his head, and these were the words that the cute blonde said: "My mouth ain't no rosebud at all, y' poor nut! If it was, 'twould invariably hafter stay shut, while mine always opens to have the last word. To call it a rosebud is simply absurd. My mouth ain't no rosebud, so don't think it is. Just dictate yer letters, and git down to biz. I git hoppin' mad and my blood simply boils when youse brokers make love to us poor workin' goils."

WATER FLOWING TO WASTE OF BIG VALUE

FRESNO, Nov. 22. — "There is enough potential power now going to waste in the north fork of the Kings river to pump water for the irrigation of 5,000,000 acres," was the startling statement made by Rex C. Starr, construction engineer of the San Joaquin Light & Power corporation, in a talk last night given before members of the Commercial club and the American Association of Engineers at the Commercial club rooms.

Mr. Starr showed some interesting views illustrating his talk on how the Kerchoff dam and power house, which was constructed two months ahead of the scheduled time for its completion. Another interesting feature of the talk was illustration showing how the big Huntington Lake dam of the Southern California Edison company was raised 35 feet, thereby doubling the capacity of Huntington Lake reservoir. Mr. Starr was construction engineer on these works as well as some of the largest hydro-electric construction done by Stone & Webster in the Pacific Northwest.

The great Kings River development, now in project by the San Joaquin Light & Power corporation, was explained by Mr. Starr, who had some surprising information on the extent of this big string of power houses and reservoirs planned for completion during the next ten years. "500,000 h. p. in Kings River

"There will be no shortage of power under the San Joaquin system when all the waters of the Kings river are put to work," said Mr. Starr. "We have preliminary surveys showing a possibility of developing 500,000 horsepower within 50 miles of Fresno. We are now working on a more detailed map of the water sheds and will use an airplane to make a photographic map of the entire mountainous country from which we will derive our flow of water. The airplane method will make a big saving in time and give us a more complete map than we could otherwise obtain. As it requires from 18 months to 2 years to build a hydro-electric plant we must begin at once to meet the demand for power that will be insistent in 1922."

In introducing Mr. Starr, B. F. Jacobsen, designing engineer of the Kerchoff project and engineer for the electric generator installation of the Roosevelt dam, gave a short talk on "Energy" in which he said: "We obtain our energy supply mainly from coal and oil and from the power in our streams. Coal and oil are an inheritance from former ages, and no matter how large these deposits may be, they are limited to a certain fixed amount. Contrary to this, the power in our streams is being created anew every year and when we use it we are not drawing upon any limited supply. Furthermore, whatever part of this power we do not use this year, we cannot use next year, for the water has meanwhile flowed to the ocean and the power it might have produced is lost forever. We either use our water powers or we waste them, and we cannot conserve our water powers by not making use of their energy any more than we can conserve our time by doing nothing."

"In view of this difference between water power and our coal and oil deposits, conservation of the water powers means the development of water power as there is no conservation in wasting power."

"It seems to me that it is decidedly better, not only for us but for the coming generations, that we should use our water power and save our coal and oil deposits since we cannot conserve the water power but we can conserve our coal and oil."

A World Power Shortage

"The public man has tolerated this great waste of the hydro-electric resources because they have been told that when our coal and oil is gone we can easily derive all the energy and power we need from our streams, but this is not so."

"Dr. Steinmetz has calculated the total amount of power which can be derived from our streams and found that this power is not sufficient to supply our needs today, to say nothing of the increase in power which must come with an increased population."

"The hope, therefore, that when our coal and oil has all been used we may turn to the power in our streams for our entire energy supply, is a vain dream. And it is therefore to the best interest of the public and the country at large that hydro-electric developments be encouraged as far as possible in order that we may conserve our coal and oil."

Economy of Hydro Power

"In order to have our water powers utilized and save our coal and oil deposits, it may be necessary to give private individuals or companies the right to use the power derived from our streams for a certain length of time because no individual or company can afford to build expensive power plants and transmission lines if they cannot be guaranteed the right to use the water for a long enough period to make the investment a paying proposition."

"I would like to ask you to visualize the power furnished by the Kerchoff power project. To equal this we would require at least 150,000 horses and they would cost, with the necessary machinery and the necessary housing facilities, at least twenty times what the Kerchoff power project has cost. In addition, we would need some 7,000 men to take care of these horses and I do not know how many thousands more to horses and men we would need to provide the necessary food. The thing would, of course, be quite impossible, but it gives, I believe, a good measure of the advantage which the San Joaquin valley derives from such a power project."

Music was furnished by the Crescendo orchestra.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH FOLLOWS INITIATION

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 — The police have begun an investigation into the death of D. Harris Cook, of Portsmouth, N. They said quantities of liquor were served.

SPECIALIST TO VISIT TUBERCULAR HOSPITALS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. — Surgeon General H. S. Cumming, of the U. S. Public Health Service, is determined to see that every one of the 15,000 tubercular patients in the Public Service hospitals have the best treatment to be had in any hospital in the land. To make sure that they shall miss nothing, he has requested a number of eminent specialists in tuberculosis, not members of the Public Health Service, to visit the conditions at each with a view to standardization and to making any improvements that may suggest themselves. Doctors David Lyman, of Wallingford, Conn., Victor Cullen, of the Maryland State Sanatorium, and Martin E. Sloan, of Towson, Md., will officiate in the eastern states; Dr. George Thomas Palmer, Springfield, Ohio, in the central states; and Dr. Henry Hoagland and one or more others in the southwestern states. About two weeks will be spent in each.

THIS CALIFORNIA WOMAN GAINED 30 POUNDS

"One year ago today I was in a hospital, but now since taking Tanlac I have not only gained thirty pounds in weight but am enjoying better health than I have in years," said Mrs. E. C. Luther, of 318 Buckthorn street, Inglewood, Calif.

"Before I began taking Tanlac I had been in wretched health and in a run-down condition for two years. I could not eat scarcely anything and when I did manage to force down a little something my stomach would become so badly upset I was in misery for hours. I was in constant pain and my nerves were so badly upset I could get but little sleep. I gradually lost weight until I was little more than a frame and was so weak I could barely get about and could not begin to do my housework."

"I had tried many different treatments and medicines but none of them did me any good. Finally my husband bought me a bottle of Tanlac and I began taking it and almost immediately I commenced to feel better. I continued taking it and continued to improve until now I am in just fine condition. I want a splendid appetite, eat anything I want without having a particle of trouble in my stomach and can sleep all night long without ever waking up. My strength has entirely returned so that I can do all my housework with the greatest ease. I am surely glad I lost weight until I was little more than a frame and was so weak I could barely get about and could not begin to do my housework."

"Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., Heying Pharmacy, Jesse Hardy, Fullerton, and the leading druggists in every town.—Adv."

ENGLISH FIRM IS NEAR 300TH YEAR

SHEFFIELD, England, Nov. 20.—The Cutlers' company, which William Clark has just been elected master, is not as ancient as the Worshipful company of Cutlers, with which it is often confused, but can boast of a respectable antiquity. It was founded in 1624 and ever since has played a great part in the industrial development of Sheffield.

Some of the early rules read rather strangely at the present day. No person engaged in the manufacture of cutlery was allowed to perform any work connected with his trade for twenty-eight days from the 8th of August, nor from Christmas to the 23rd of January. Nobody was permitted to follow the trade who had not served seven years' apprenticeship in Hallamshire, or been instructed by his father there for the same period.

The present ornate Cutlers' Hall was erected about eighty years ago on the site of the original building, a quaint old structure demolished in 1832. There every autumn the Master Cutler gives a great feast hardly less important as a national event than the Lord Mayor's banquet in London. Ever since John Winter, Master Cutler, in 1682 entertained the Duke of Norfolk, the feast has been attended by men of note; and there is always some principal guest, whose utterances are often looked forward to with hardly less anxiety than those of the Prime Minister at the Mansion House.

PLAN TO SELECT COSTUMES FOR PAGEANT

Costumes for the Pilgrim pageant, December 21, are to be selected in Los Angeles tomorrow, it was announced today. Miss Birdina Henry of the oral expression department and Miss Louise Lauritzen, art director of the local high school, are to go to Los Angeles to make the selections.

The customs and properties needed for the staging of each episode have been listed by the individual directors and will be ordered by Miss Henry and Miss Lauritzen tomorrow. It has been estimated that from 250 to 300 costumes will be needed.

Especially good results are expected in the costuming of the pageant, as many other cities of Southern California are staging similar productions. Because of this fact, costumes are making a specialty of Pilgrim costumes and apparel suitable to the periods to be represented in the pageant.

The formative work on each episode has already been started and some progress is reported. The costumes will arrive the day before the pageant, in order that a dress rehearsal may be held.

There is a possibility that a community "sing" will be held in Birch park on the Sunday before the pageant, in order that the hymns which are to be sung by the crowd as they move from one episode to the other may be rehearsed. It is the desire of the general committee in charge of the pageant to make the community singing by the crowd, as it moves from place to place, a big feature of the day.

SHABBY STRANGER HOSPITAL 'ANGEL'

LONDON, Nov. 20.—There is one man in London who has all the enjoyment of doing good without being beset by all who want good to be done to them. Perhaps he is enjoying too, the bottle of Tanlac. His own account of himself is that he is getting old and has "not much use for his money."

During the last few days a shabby, aged man has been visiting hospitals and charitable society offices and casually giving "a little donation." This little donation has been invariably noted for £500. The old man's method is freakish. He tells the secretary he would like to help, and producing from a small canvas bag a roll of notes he puts them down and forthwith disappears. If asked for his name by the grateful official he says (or did to one astonished secretary), "I like your face," and departs quickly.

He seems to be nearly eighty years old and wears a greasy suit, a cloth cap and broken boots. The only noticeable feature recorded is an inflamed left lower eyelid. One secretary said he expected to get half a crown, from the looks of him. He speaks like an educated man. The little canvas bag is said to be bursting with bank notes. He is known to have given away more than £2,000 in this way. The hospitals are all eagerly hoping he will call.

Before producing the money he usually stipulates that it shall be used for the benefit of the patients and not for building. Reporters who have been trying to discover the identity of this modern Haroun al-Raschid have found out nothing. For the sake of the hospitals it is to be hoped his wish to be unknown will be respected.

DISCOVER GREAT OIL FIELD IN SUB ARCTIC

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 22.—That the comparatively recent oil discoveries in the Mackenzie River country near Fort Norman are of supreme importance from at least the geological point of view is universally admitted by mining men and others in this city.

The potential wealth of the district in oil is evidently enormous from the reports that have come in, but the fact that the discovery has taken place in Canada's sub-Arctic lands has up to date been held largely to discount its commercial usefulness.

Charles T. Low, a geologist, resident on the Pacific Coast, is now on a visit to the East and has come out very definitely as to vast importance of the discoveries. Mr. Low, who for the past seven years has directed well boring operations for Lord Rhondra in the Peace River district, declares decidedly that one of the world's greatest oil fields has been found.

The Imperial Oil company, with offices in this city, is the concern whose name is most closely connected with the new enterprise. Exactly one month ago C. O. Stillman, the president of the company, made a statement regarding the field's commercial possibilities to the Toronto press. He said:

"We consider this is an important strike and scientifically of much value. From a commercial point of view, however, it is not of immediate value, as it will probably be years before it can be made available in quantities for use of the Canadian market on account of its remoteness from any refinery outlet. This well is situated 454 miles below Fort Norman, 900 miles from the nearest calling port of a river boat, 1200 miles from the nearest railroad, and 1500 miles north of Edmonton, the nearest city, via the present route."

J. H. Eastwood, of this city, former president of the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, is also financially interested in another concern that aims to tap the virgin wealth of the new oil region. Mr. Eastwood believes that eventually climatic and other obstacles will be overcome.

DALMATIA CHILDREN TO HAVE SANTA CLAUS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A Santa Claus ship is going from America to Dalmatia. It will be furnished by the Navy department, and the cargo, which is to delight the kiddies of the Adriatic Sea country, will be supplied by the American Junior Red Cross.

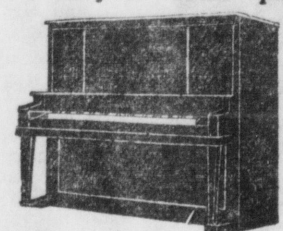

The sending of the ship was suggested by Rear-Admiral Andrews, in the Adriatic. He wrote that the children of Dalmatia needed better clothing and nourishment than they received and that they did not know what toys were like.

Laden with 2,000 pairs of socks, a like number of stockings, thousands of cans of condensed milk and hundreds of bars of chocolate and toys, the vessel will leave Hampton Roads early enough to reach Spalato so the gifts can be distributed before Christmas.

Hundreds of steel and wooden vessels built for war purposes are now developing American trade with the ports of the world.

A LETTER FOR WOMEN

From a Woman Whose Serious Illness Was Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Garnett, Kan.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a complete nervous breakdown following the birth of my oldest child. I got up too soon which caused serious trouble. I was so weak that I was not able to do any housework at all. I had a bad pain in my left side and it would pain terribly if I stepped off a curb-stone. One day one of your booklets was thrown in the yard and I read every word in it. There were so many who had been helped by your medicine that I wanted to try it and my husband went to town and got me a bottle. It seemed as though I felt relief after the second dose, so I kept on until I had taken five bottles and by that time I was as well as I could wish. About a year later I gave birth to a ten pound boy, and have had two more children since and my health has been fine. If I ever have trouble of any kind I am going to take your medicine for I give it all the praise for my good health. I always recommend your medicine whenever I can."

PLAN IS SUGGESTED FOR ANAHEIM FLOAT

ANAHEIM, Nov. 22.—With the Pasadena Tournament of Roses approaching and Anaheim considering entering a float in the great floral pageant, E. A. Beard, manager, and E. B. Tozier, director of the Elks and are proposing that the city have a musical organization as part of its representation. Mr. Tozier suggested today that a float covered with white material to represent snow be built with chairs for the band, who are outfitted with new white uniforms. Then the products of this section could be represented around the base of the float, according to his plan. The idea will probably be presented to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce within the next few days.

"DEATH CURVE" ACTS AS AUTO THIEVES' TRAP

TULARE, Nov. 22.—"Death Curve," on the State highway at the south city limits, scene of many serious accidents this summer, has just served as a trap for thieves. A rapidly moving touring car went off the highway at this point, somersaulted three times and collapsed in a ditch. Three men crawled out of the wreckage and limped away. The machine had been stolen from H. P. Grigsby of Bakersfield. On the heels of this discovery, another machine southbound, going at great speed, hit the curve and catapulted over a ditch into an adjoining field. Its occupants escaped in the darkness. This car had been stolen from H. H. Backer of Fresno.

OIL CITY CLAIMS LARGEST BABY GIRL

A record sized baby boy, weighing 17 pounds, was born here nine months ago.

FAVOR SCHOOL BONDS BY 10 TO 1 MAJORITY

TALBERT, Nov. 22.—Ten votes of the eleven cast in the voting on the Fountain Valley school bond question favored the passage of the bonds.

The election was held Saturday in the Japanese Hall. The bonds voted were for $5000 additional to money previously secured for the building of the new Fountain Valley school.

Members of the election board were: Mrs. Laura Harper, Mrs. Lida Wardlow and Mrs. Mollie Martel.

Southern California

SANTA BARBARA.—Fire of an unknown origin today totally destroyed the Maple schoolhouse in the Lompoc Valley. The school was the oldest in the valley. It was built in 1875.

PASADENA.—Assurances that work upon the double track curve at Colorado street and Los Robles avenue will be rushed to completion before January 1 have been given by Pacific Electric officials. The Tournament of Roses Association is anxious to have the curve in, for handling New Year's day crowds, but does not want the street torn up to interfere with the parade.

LANCASTER.—What is considered by the oldtimers here as the best well ever drilled in Antelope Valley is the 400-foot well just finished for George A. Dennison on the Dry Lakes, nine miles northeast of here. The well is located in the center of the lakes, and the water flowing from it has a terrific pressure strong enough to force water to the top of a two-story building. This makes ten wells already sunk on the Dry Lakes. The water from the new well will be used to irrigate twenty-five acres of alfalfa which Mr. Dennison intends to plant next spring.

LONG BEACH.—The city manager of Long Beach, under the new form of government agreed upon by the charter board of freeholders, will receive a salary of not less than $7500 yearly. That sum has been fixed as a minimum, but the City Council could go as far beyond that figure as might be thought advisable. The freeholders will present to the voters only the managerial government plan, it is said, although some of them will refuse to endorse the report. The board unanimously has agreed to write into the new charter a strict prohibition section.

LANCASTER.—A report has reached here telling of a rancher living twenty miles east of here, who, believing there was oil on his place, had set up a hand-drilling machine and was drilling at a slow but steady gait. It seems, according to the story, that the farmer found some trace of oil in a domestic well on his place, and is drilling a test well by hand.

CALIPATRIA.—Following an all-night search, the body of the 14-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shafer was found in the high line canal five miles below where the little one had fallen to its death.

While Mrs. Shafer was engaged in her work the child slipped away and in less than a minute had disappeared. The father in janitor for the No. 3 water company.

CALIPATRIA.—Livestock fanciers have been specially interested in a splendid lot of 38 Ardenale dairy cows which have just been received by J. W. Jesse & Sons and placed at their dairy in addition to the cows already there. The Jesse & Sons ranch is one of the finest in Imperial Valley and the dairy is in keeping with it. The cows were received from the ranch bearing their name.

EL CENTRO.—Charles Skiller was arrested at Calexico on a charge of smuggling forty-eight pints of whisky, and was arraigned before Commissioner Whitelaw. He will be sent to Los Angeles for trial.

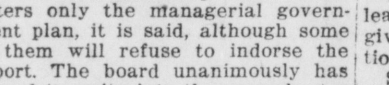

"Windy" Jones, arrested on charge of bootlegging, was released on $500 bail.

LOS ANGELES.—D. A. Stephens, 77, is dead at his home in Santa Monica, after a long illness. His widow, Mrs. D. G. Stephens, was formerly a member of the board of directors of the Ventura School for Girls, and was the founder of the Santa Monica Bay District Woman's club. Funeral will be announced later.

Beginners' class meets Monday and Thursday at 7 p. m., at home of Mrs. Olive Lopez, 519 West Fifth. Terms $4 for eight lessons, in advance.

HOME COMING DAY PLANS COMPLETED

TALBERT, Nov. 22.—All arrangements for the Thanksgiving Home Coming Day for the Greenville circuit have been completed with the receiving of the promise of Rev. S. C. Perry to preach the Thanksgiving sermon. The preaching service will be given at eleven o'clock and will follow the children's program which is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock.

Rev. Perry is one of the oldest surviving ministers who have preached on this circuit and his acceptance of the invitation to preach is welcomed generally. It is hoped that numbers of the former members or friends of each of the three churches, Greenville, Bolsa and Talbert, will join in the church reunion, which will be held on the Talbert church grounds.

Everyone is heartily welcome. The big barbecue with countless other good things promises to be all that could be wished for a Thanksgiving dinner. All that is asked of those attending is for the ladies to bring a pie or cake, as they prefer, if convenient.

Everything else for the dinner has been arranged for.

A pretty social event occurred on Friday afternoon when a company of fifteen friends of Mrs. C. E. Gilbert gathered at her home and gave her a surprise shower.

This afternoon passed most pleasantly with Mrs. McGill assisted by Mrs. Ceberry Wells, as hostesses. Delightful refreshments of ice cream, cookies and fruit salad were served. A solo by Mrs. Hattie Talbert was one of the enjoyable features of the afternoon.

Mrs. Talbert, Mrs. Leon Moore, Mrs. C. W. Wells and Mrs. McGill were the local ladies present and the other members of the party were from Santa Ana. Miss Alpha Gilbert also came home from Pasadena to be present.

Al Schrode and wife were guests for a few hours Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Sam Talbert. The Shrodes are at present located in the Santa Ana Canyon where Mr. Schrode is employed as a well driller in the oil fields.

The grading of the roads near Newhope was finished Thursday by S. E. Talbert's outfits. The roads east of Talbert are being repaired at the present time.

The local school children are learning a number of pretty Thanksgiving songs this week in preparation for the holiday celebration.

S. E. Talbert is keeping many teams busy grading out a new sump hole for the Bolsa Chico Standard well. Between seven and eight acres are included in it and it is surrounded by a four foot levee. This makes the third excavation necessary for the well.

Mrs. L. T. Wells received a letter from her son Eugene, Perry, written while on route to San Francisco aboard the U. S. S. New Mexico, which left Los Angeles harbor Sunday. He reported a most pleasant voyage.

BLAMES PROFITEERS FOR CRIME INCREASE

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Profiteers are partly responsible for the so-called crime wave now sweeping many sections of the country, Miss Julia K. Jaffray, secretary of the committee on prisons and prison labor declared in an interview today.

As secretary of this body, which is a national organization, Miss Jaffray declared she had found that stories of the successful operations of profiteers led to a reckless belief among "get away with" smaller crimes and illegalities.

Prison surveys recently made show a great decrease in petty offenses, with a great increase in crimes of violence, she said.

CARNIVAL PEOPLE ACCUSED OF THEFT

A warrant for the arrest of "John and Jane Doe" Bartlett for the theft of clothing and household articles to the value of $56 from the house of Miss Barbara McMahon, of Anaheim, is the aftermath of an act of kindness.

The Bartletts were a part of the carnival troupe which held forth at the American Legion celebration in Anaheim recently. When the couple arrived in Anaheim they found the city crowded and they were unable to get a room. They applied to Miss McMahon and asked if she would let them have a spare room. She objected at first to renting a room, but finally consented, merely as a favor to the couple, in order that they might not be left without accommodations.

When the carnival was over the Bartletts left, and at the same time there disappeared an evening scarf, worth $20, a comforter, worth $15, four yards of silk, worth $20, and some corduroy cloth worth $1.

The class in Photography is large enough to start, and they are hoping more will enter this class.

A few were enrolled for Salesmanship and it is hoped more will enroll for this class.

UP-STATE NEWS

SAN FRANCISCO.—The body of Commander Warren J. Terhune, former Governor of Samoa, will be returned to Mare Island on the navy collier Brutus, sailing from Samoa today, according to advices received by the Twelfth Naval district yesterday. Governor Terhune ended his life November 3 at the Tutuila naval station, American Samoa, on the eve of an investigation into the administration of the island by the United States government.

Commander Arthur C. Kall, U. S. N., has been assigned as acting governor of the island until a permanent governor can be appointed, according to district officials.

GRASS VALLEY.—John Colligan, old and partially blind, was badly burned at his home on Gold Hill when a blanket over his shoulders caught fire as he sat smoking by the kitchen range. His face, neck and chest are badly burned and his recovery is doubtful. Colligan had arisen early to smoke, and when his screams attracted the other members of his family he was found in flames.

CHICO.—Charging that the 10 per cent reduction in freight rates authorized by the State Railroad commission for certain points on the Western Pacific railroad are discriminatory against Chico, Secretary Frank B. Durkee of the Chico Chamber of Commerce yesterday sent a protest to the railroad company.

STOCKTON.—Members of the Progressive Business club have had under consideration and discussion for some time the project of prohibiting the erection of an office building to be not less than 12 stories in height.

ASSEMBLYMAN PAYS FINE IN UNIQUE CASE

ESCONDIDO, Nov. 22.—Having pleaded guilty to the complaint issued by the district attorney, charging him with having spent more money for advertising purposes than allowed by law in promoting his candidacy in the election of Nov. 2, W. A. Doran was fined $50 by Township Justice W. N. Bradbury and was given 30 days in which to pay.

The complaint charging Doran with the excess expenditure of election expenses was made by Percy Evans, publisher of the Escondido Times-Advocate, at the solicitation of Doran. At the time of his arraignment before Justice Bradbury, Doran entered a plea of guilty, explaining that the excess expenditure had been made inadvertently and that as soon as he discovered he had violated the law he took prompt steps for bringing the matter to the attention of the courts.

PASTOR ARRAIGNED ON SLAYING CHARGE

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 22.—Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin was to be arraigned in police court here today, charged with "killing and slaying" Beverly Trumble, proprietor of a rooming house.

Rev. Spracklin shot and killed Trumble during a raid on the latter's room two weeks ago. Border residents filed many complaints with the attorney general because the minister was released by the coroner's jury and because of alleged "irregular" methods used in his campaign against rum runners.

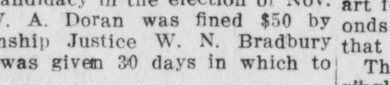

Rev. Spracklin is a pastor of the Sandwich Methodist church.

C. C. AND AUTO CLUB TO USE SAME OFFICE

ANAHEIM, Nov. 22.—Final arrangements have been made in Los Angeles, between officers of Anaheim Chamber of Commerce and the Automobile Club of Southern California, for the joint occupation of the new quarters of the local organization, on North Los Angeles street, beginning January 1. It is barely possible that the Western Union Telegraph company may deem it advisable to put in a day and night office on the same premises. Consideration of the latter move is also part of today's conference in the Angel city.

The general public is unaware of the importance to Anaheim of the proposed Auto Club branch. It means several things for the advancement and advertising of the Mother Colony. The club has now a membership of over 50,000 automobile owners, manufacturers and dealers. Its maps are circulated all over the Union, and many thousands go abroad yearly. When a tourist's information Bureau, such as is contemplated for Anaheim, is established, a red star goes on the map, showing the tourist that here is located a rest room for motorists, with lavatory facilities, and information headquarters, from which all advice regarding roads and kindred subjects will be disseminated.

Orange county, once the installation of the new bureau is fixed, will have three similar branches, Santa Ana, Fullerton and Anaheim. The Auto Club of Southern California has 2,000 members in Orange County today, with new memberships piling in, according to C. E. Phillips, who will continue to act as local representative. Next to the Aetna Insurance company the club does the largest insurance business in automobile risks in the world. Purely as to volume of membership, it is the largest in the world by a wide margin.

GIRL MAKES EYES AT 'DUMMY' IN VAIN

What was the figure which moved about in the show windows of the J. C. Horton Furniture company's store this afternoon and mechanically demonstrated Brunswick phonographs? According to some, including the promoters of the exhibition, it was only a highly perfected wax creature in the form of a young man, but there were among the onlookers those who with equal confidence asserted that the staring form was human, having remarkable control over involuntary muscles.

One well-known professional man had five dollars which he offered to back up his opinion that the figure was mechanical in construction and operation.

"I can tell if he is a real man," exclaimed a coquettish young lady, as she moved forward and made "goo-goo eyes" at the figure, whose eyes were turned toward her. But there was no sign of intelligence in the figure's face. After trying her art for two minutes and twenty seconds the young lady left, satisfied that it was wax, nothing but wax.

The figure's tension was not in a single instance broken by the ridiculous comments and astonished looks before him. Many were the attempts to attract its attention and force it to reveal human intelligence.

The automaton is attracting attention to Brunswick phonographs, as an ingenious advertising idea. It appeared this afternoon between 2:30 and 5 p. m.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS IN NEW ATHLETIC LEAGUE

An indoor baseball league composed of grammar schools of Orange county is the latest entry into the field of school athletics in this vicinity, it was announced today. Sixteen schools are said to be represented in the new league. These schools have been divided geographically into two groups of eight schools each. One group includes the schools in the northern part of the county and the other is composed of the southern schools.

The schools which will participate in the league are: Orange, Tustin, Irvine, Brea, Newport Beach and Santa Ana. The games will be played on Friday afternoons.

The league has grown out of the fact that most of the schools wished some form of athletic competition. Some desired football but when many of the schools opposed that form of sport indoor baseball was substituted. A regular seasonal line of sports, including basketball, track and baseball will be followed. The only change made in this idea is the substituting of indoor baseball for football.

ALLEGED BOOTLEGGER IS GIVEN SIX MONTHS

"Three months for each pint," ordered United States Judge Benjamin Bledsoe of Los Angeles when J. M. Maldonado, recently arrested here on a charge of bootlegging was brought before him. Maldonado pleaded guilty to violating the Volstead act. He admitted that he had sold two pints of bootleg brandy to a "neighbor." He was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail in Los Angeles.

Maldonado was arrested in a raid here by City Marshal Sam Jernigan. Tuesday he employed attorneys Eden and Koepsel, who filed an application of habeas corpus, asking that their client be freed because no charge was on record against him. Judge R. Y. Williams ordered that he be released.

As he stepped out of the courtroom, however, Maldonado was re-arrested by a federal officer on a warrant charging him with violation of the Volstead act.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c.

OLD FORT TEJON IS BOUGHT BY
KERN COUNTY

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 22.—Fort Tejon, frontier post of the golden days of California, and one of the landmarks on the inland state highway, thirty-seven miles south of Bakersfield, will become the property of the county of Kern, to be maintained by the county as a picnic and camping grounds for the use of the people.

Informal assurance of this fact became known at a conference at Fort Tejon between representatives of the Tejon Ranch syndicate, owner of the fort grounds, and members of the Kern county board of supervisors and the Bakersfield Woman's club.

In addition to the fort site which will, by grand deed, 500 feet frontage on the state highway, and extending westward into the hills to include the parade grounds and soldier's cemetery, the county will negotiate with the Tejon ranch people for the purchase of a half mile frontage on the highway from the old fort and extending westward into the canyon, over the state highway, an average depth of one-fourth of a mile—making a tract of eighty acres, situated on Tejon creek and covered with immense white oaks, ideal for picnic and camping grounds.

To Restore Fort.
The fort itself is to be restored as nearly as possible as it stood in 1854-1856, when it was used as government post to guard the settlers and the mail and express routes against Indians and outlaws.

The famous "Peter Lebeque" tree, upon which was inscribed about 1837 the death of Lebeque, a famous French frontiersman, who was killed by a grizzly bear in the canyon.

Remaining buildings of the old fort include the large barracks, officers' quarters which is used as a ranch house by the Tejon people, the ruins of the powder magazine, and walls of other buildings including the ruins of the fort's blacksmith shop. The walls of the fort which come down to the road, are practically obliterated, the adobe being taken from the walls to repair the buildings which crumbled before the elements and were racked by earthquakes.

The big barracks, which is the best preserved buildings contains two large old fashioned fireplaces. The barracks is being used for a stable and hay and grain storage, but it is possible to restore the building to a reasonable extent.

Fourteen Soldiers Buried.
The location of the old parade grounds is believed to be directly west of the barracks, and the soldiers' cemetery lay back of the parade grounds. The exact location of the cemetery has not yet been determined but a broken headstone bears the inscription: "In Memory of First Lieut. Thomas F. Castor, died at Fort Tejon, September 8, 1855, aged 35 years."

Thirteen other soldiers were buried in the cemetery beside Lieut. Castor.
Lieut. Castor served in the Mexican war after graduation from West Point in 1846. He was also at Benicia arsenal in the early fifties, and was a classmate of General Stonewall Jackson. General George B. McClellan and other famous Civil war leaders.

The assistance of Truxton Beale, formerly owner of the Tejon ranch, whose father came to the Tejon in the late forties, will be sought in an effort to locate the historic points at the old fort.

Remains of Lebeque Tree.
In a recent letter to a friend in Bakersfield, Mr. Beale writes concerning memories of Tejon pass:

"Peter Lebeque, as you probably know, was killed by a bear in the Tejon pass and was buried under an oak tree there. The inscription was cut into the tree and I think in the early eighties was cut out and brought to Bakersfield. My father made a speech on Lebeque which I have lost but perhaps there is a copy of it in Bakersfield. My father reached California in 1846 and went through Tejon pass in '49. The government built the fort about 1850. In my childhood, I remember (Beale was born in 1856) a regiment of soldiers were there to protect the settlers from the Indians. There is a fort graveyard some distance back of the old parade ground. Kit Carson went there once with my father in the fifties when the home ranch was near the mouth of the canyon."

"Mary Austen (the writer) also lived at the foot of the hill as you go up into the canyon. I have forgotten the many tragic stories of things that happened round the fort and at the old stage station in the canyon and know of no one living who could give you a truthful account of them. Beyond Taylor, I am pretty sure, I have not been with my father. Col. Ben Beale was the first commandant at the fort. The camels were driven through there from the Mojave desert about 1857 or 1858."

To Make Survey.
The county will send its surveyor, J. R. Tiedeman, to the old fort to survey the lands desired for the public grounds, and to map off the eighty acres which front on the stage highway.

The formal application of the county to take over the fort will be submitted to the Tejon ranch syndicate which will not sell the fort grounds, but will make the same a grant from the syndicate to the people of Kern county.

The proposed eighty-acre tract would furnish room for several picnics and contains land that could be easily leveled for a baseball diamond, tennis court and other forms of outdoor sports. The grounds include considerable shady hill land, and there are 2000 magnificent oaks on it, and large numbers of springs and plenty of running water.

Every owner of a lot throughout the United States is benefitted by our overseas trade.

KILLS YOUNG MOTHER
IN FIRING AT THIEF

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Dolores Monta, 26, mother of a five-week-old baby, was shot by Detective James Kenny, who fired at a fleeing thief, alleged to have stolen some cigarettes from the back of an automobile truck. She died later in a hospital.

When the woman dropped to the sidewalk, the detective stopped long enough to place her on the steps of a house, and continued his pursuit. He arrested the boy, Joseph Peninber, aged 18, shortly afterwards.

Assistant District Attorney Henniss, to whom Kenny made a report, held the detective blameless.

BIG SPEED DUELS
TO START AT 1:30

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—It has been definitely decided that the big championship race to be held here on Thanksgiving Day will start at 1:30 sharp. According to Speedway officials, the fast cars should swing into their final lap around the wooden bowl shortly after 4 o'clock. This arrangement will permit those who have been accustomed to celebrating Turkey Day in the usual manner to do full justice to the spread either before the race or after.

The track will be thrown open at 9 o'clock in the morning for those who wish to look over the Aero Show in the infield and at noon exactly Barry's Flying circus will attempt to heave a few thrills into the multitude, their death-defying exhibition coming to an end before the race starts, according to Dick Ferris, who is promoting the Aero Show.

The selection of Eddie Rickenbacker to referee the event is most popular, and Charles Root and Stan Mitchell will make a handsome pair of honorary referees, having earned the right to serve in this capacity by reason of having served actively as referees at previous Speedway events. Rickenbacker, true to his reputation as America's first foremost birdman, will fly down to the local track from San Francisco.

Entries for the big race have closed and it is hardly expected there will be any surprises as the list of eligibles has been gone over very carefully by Secretary A. M. Young, and any who did not have sufficient time to enter with the best in the world have been politely requested not to embarrass the management by trying to make an official entry.

Never before has so much rivalry existed between the drivers. The fact that the prize purse—some $35,000—is one of the largest ever hung up for a 250-mile race, possibly has a lot to do with this. But the title of National Speedway champion for 1920, which will be definitely decided by the outcome of the Turkey Day classic, is something that every pilot is out to get and there are bound to be some thrilling brushes.

Starter Fred Wagner of New York and Contest Chairman Richard Kernell, of the American Automobile association, have arrived from the East. Barney Oldfield, veteran driver and cigar-chewing champion of the world, is also in town and will pace the field in its preliminary lap around the lumber loop.

WATCHMAN BATTLES
UNKNOWN BURGLAR

MODESTO, Nov. 22.—An unknown burglar and Carl Nickerson, negro, fought for many minutes in the L. E. Service garage at Ceres at an early hour before the burglar broke loose and escaped.

Nickerson, employed as watchman in the place, was awakened by a hand upon his throat. He endeavored to throw it off and was hit twice on the head with a hammer. Partially stunned he continued to fight and rolled on the floor with the man. When the man finally broke and ran Nickerson got his revolver and fired several shots at close range. The burglar was evidently frightened for he leaped out of the window he threw the hammer and he used as a weapon at Nickerson. No trace of the man has been found.

HUGE SHIPMENT OF OPIUM IS SEIZED

MANILA, Nov. 22.—The largest seizure of opium in the history of the Philippines, valued at $1,000,000, was made by customs officials Tuesday at Muntangang Islands, near Luzon, Cebu. It was announced here. This is the second opium seizure within a week in the Cebu district in investigation of what customs officials declare to be smuggling operations carried on by a wealthy syndicate with ramifications from China to Borneo.

Tuesday's confiscation consisted of 3300 lbs. of choice grade Hong Kong opium. The drug was found in sealed petroleum cans, probably dropped from a steamer and brought ashore in a launch. Five officials at Cebu and a Chinese merchant have been placed under arrest.

TELLS RULES AS TO MAILING OF PACKAGES

By C. D. OVERSHINER, Postmaster.

Once more the Christmas period is approaching, and, as in the past, the post office department requests all to do their mailing early, thus enabling packages that are to be mailed to reach their destination by Christmas day. Early shopping will go a long way in helping matters out. If this is done and your packages prepared for mailing in plenty of time, much work can be lightened at the post office, which will not only relieve overworked postal clerks, but result in general satisfaction to all concerned.

Packages can be labeled "Not to be opened until Christmas," or similar notations may be made.

Use care in packing and taping, and extra care in packing articles that are easy to break. Such articles should be labeled "fragile."

Perishable articles should be labeled "perishable," and should be sent with a special delivery stamp, 10 cents extra. This expedites their delivery.

Don't fail to place return address on all packages, thus insuring their return in case they cannot be delivered. Extra postage is required to have all packages returned.

See that your letters and packages are properly addressed and in a legible hand. Always place the address on the lower right hand corner, with the return address on the upper left hand corner. Every one is asked to comply with this instruction. It insures good service.

Parcel Post Rules.
Parcel post packages can only be mailed at the post office. Do not seal your packages for they then come under the first class rate. Parcel post fourth class matter, which ranges from the local zone to the eighth zone, different rates for each zone. Those wishing circulars in regard to rates and other features of the parcel post, will be supplied with the same on request at the stamp window.

Remember, an ounce over a pound counts two pounds, and so on. Seventy pounds can be mailed in the local, first, second and third zones; fifteen pounds in the remaining zones.

A war tax stamp of 1 cent for each 25 cents or fractional part of 25 cents must be paid on all parcels, but not on packages costing less than 25 cents in postage.

The insurable feature of the parcel post is within reach of all, and it will pay one to take advantage of it. The rates are:

Three cents for value up to $5.
Five cents for value up to $25.
Ten cents for value up to $50.
Twenty-five cents for value up to $100.

Small, valuable packages should be sealed and registered, fee, 10 cents.

General Information.
Patrons are asked to assist the office by facing letters, and where there are 20 or more, by handing them in, or placing a string around them. When mailing large bunches at night, please drop in the paper box. This expedites matters for the mailing clerk in the morning.

When mailing bunches of Christmas cards, please face them with a string around them. This will be appreciated by the postal employees.

Do your mailing early in the day, and as frequently as possible, so as to avoid congestion in the evening. This will insure prompt connections with trains.

Complete copies of newspapers are one cent for each four ounces. When not complete, one cent for each two ounces.

Photographs have a special rate of one cent for each two ounces. No pound rate.

Parcels weighing four ounces or less, excepting books, seeds, plants, etc., one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof, any distance.

Parcels weighing eight ounces or less, containing books, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions and plants, one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof regardless of distance.

Foreign Mail.
Letters and post cards addressed to England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, New Zealand, Canada, New Foundland, Cuba Mexico and the Republic of Panama, are subject to the same postage rates and conditions as in this country.

In other foreign countries, the rate is 5 cents for the first ounce, and 3 cents thereafter.

The eight zone rate, 12 cents a pound, applies to all parcel post going to foreign countries. Some of the smaller countries have an additional local tax for delivery of parcels.

Special attention is called to the fact that only four pounds and six ounces can be accepted for Canada and Cuba. A package an ounce over the above is returnable. Eleven pounds to all other countries, excepting twenty pounds to Mexico, Ecuador, Republic of Panama and El Salvador, and 22 pounds to Brazil, British Honduras, Colombia, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Peru and the Republic of Honduras.

Custom tags of from one to two must be attached to each parcel with the exception of Canada and Cuba.

Packages of merchandise cannot be insured or sent C. O. D., but may be registered for Canada, Cuba, Mexico and the Republic of Panama.

Merchandise cannot be sent sealed into Canada, Cuba or the Republic of Panama. Some foreign countries permit this.

Parcel post received for Germany, Austria and Bulgaria, with certain restrictions, which will be made from the post office.

Cut this out for future reference.

COHAN RETURNS TO
N. Y. FRIARS CLUB

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—George M. Cohan is back in the Friars Club. It was announced at the club that the former abbot, who resigned at the time of the actors' strike a year ago, had been persuaded to rejoin the club and had been re-elected to membership.

The story around the clubhouse is that Cohan will become abbot as soon as the new formalities are accomplished. It is understood that J. J. Gleason, the present abbot, plans to resign in favor of Mr. Cohan.

AMATEUR OPERATORS

Amateur wireless sets in California. The Navy department set the trials for last night, and Saturday night. To give the amateurs every chance, the operation was held at 2:30 a. m. On these two nights all the radio stations in Honolulu were still in order to eliminate interference.

Results Known Thursday.
The results will not be known until next Thursday and will be announced by the Navy department at the convention of the Pacific Coast Radio operators at San Francisco.

Both Finley and Aufdenkamp report that weather conditions were excellent on both nights, and state that more favorable conditions for the test could not have prevailed.

The test rose out of a report coming from Honolulu that a message sent out by one of the California amateur stations had been heard in Honolulu. The Navy department did not believe the report. The amateurs were sure it was true. The Navy department therefore held the test.

When White was operating the outfit now owned by Finley, he broke the amateur wireless record in the United States by communicating with a wireless station at Moscow, Idaho. This means that he not only received from there, but also sent them and received answers.

Although the maximum current which the United States government allows wireless amateurs to use is set at 1000, the limit set for all wireless outfits operating within a mile of government stations is 500. Therefore, all the amateurs in California were held down to 500 in this test. In order to give all an equal chance.

Both Finley and Aufdenkamp are hopeful that their messages were received in Honolulu. They claim they are willing to gamble that some of the messages sent from the fifteen amateur stations were received by the federal station on the Pacific isle.

23 YEARS CHANGES
FOOTWEAR PRICES

EL DORADO, Kan., Nov. 22.—Twenty-three years ago, D. O. Hamilton, a farmer of the Chelsea neighborhood, northeast of El Dorado purchased a pair of shoes at a local shoe company. Recently, Hamilton went to the same store wearing the same footwear, which is still good for some time to come. He purchased another pair for use "for Sundays" and when he comes to town, but in stead of paying $1.98, as he did in 1897, he had to give $9 for the same grade of shoes.

RAILROADS PLAN TO ISSUE $34,687,000
IN NOTES AND BONDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Application to issue notes and bonds totaling $34,687,000 was received by the interstate commerce commission today from nine railroads.

Most of these issues will take up maturing obligations. Others will provide for improvements.

The Big Four requested permission to issue $17,366,000 and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific $4,421,000.

WATER COMPANIES ARE GIVEN RELIEF ORDERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Forty-seven water companies hard hit by lowered water levels caused by three years of scanty rainfall, and added cost of pumping, were granted financial relief by the Railroad Commission today. The annual report of the Commission for the year ending June 30, 1920. Investigations conducted by the hydraulic division of the commission showed that the unprecedented shortage of water, coupled with soaring material and labor costs were responsible for a condition that threatened the well being of many communities throughout the state. The relief ranged from rates that increased revenues from 4 to 100%, the average being 20.77%.

In several cases, due to abnormal conditions water utilities were allowed to collect a surcharge to enable them to meet the cost of pumping and even hauling water. The commission held in these cases "that there was absolute need for the proper functioning of these utilities, whole communities depending upon them for health and comfort."

D'ANNUNZIO REFUSES TO ABIDE BY TREATY

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Gabriele D'Annunzio, says a dispatch to the London Times, told Gen. Caviglia, commander of the Italian forces in Julian Venetia, that he would not recognize the treaty of Rapallo.

The poet said he was sorry the treaty had been well received in Italy, but that his oath had been taken not to abandon Dalmatia.

He added that the internal situation in Jugo Slavia was such as to prevent ratification of the treaty.

THANK OFFERING IS RECEIVED BY U. P. CHURCH

The annual Thanksgiving offering of members of the United Presbyterian church taken last night resulted in filling the baskets with $539.

It is the custom of this church to have an offering of this kind just before Thanksgiving. The funds go into the hands of the Woman's Missionary society to be used by that society to help out any department of the church that needs aid. The collection is aside from any church pledges that may be made.

The sum offered last evening does not complete the thanks fund. The Young Women's society of the church is planning to add possibly $100 at its next meeting. There will be other additions to the fund also.

QUICK WEALTH IN IMPERIAL, IS CLAIM

Many explanations have been advanced for the remarkably quick success of Imperial Valley farmers, who, according to J. A. Timmons, exclusive local agent for the Imperial Valley Farm Lands association, even pay for their land with one year's production, and very frequently become wealthy in four or five years.

"One of the greatest factors in this situation," Timmons asserts, "is the ability of the Imperial Valley rancher to conduct his business with very little equipment. Because of the year around growing season, and the lack of rain and severe weather, the dairyman, for instance, can obtain maximum production with minimum expenditure for buildings and equipment. Similarly, the hog raiser can put most of his money into stock which produces quick returns, and at the least possible overhead expense. Add to these facts the plentiful supply of cheap feed, and one readily appreciates the advantages of Imperial Valley for the rancher with small capital."

An interesting example is cited in the case of one Imperial Valley dairyman who cares for sixty cows with a small shed containing only six stalls. By the use of milking machines he readily milks the entire herd in record time with a minimum of help and expense. The cows are pastured nearly all winter, and large quantities of feed are available close at hand.

Timmons reports many calls for the illustrated folders issued by the Imperial Valley Farm Lands association, and states that a number of local investors are planning trips of inspection to the Calipatria-Niland District.

FIGHT FOR $500,000
ARIZ. ESTATE LOOMS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 22.—A fight for the estate of Thomas J. Check, wealthy easterner, whose death in Phoenix last Saturday was declared by a coroner's jury to have been due to a beating administered by his son, Victor, and the latter's wife, was forecast today when it became known here that heirs living in East Orange, N. J., have engaged a lawyer to guard their interests.

Mrs. Ethel Check Porter, of New York, acting for herself and in behalf of other heirs in the east, has listed the aid of an attorney here.

Denial that Check, senior, made any will while in Arizona is made by counsel for Victor Check and his wife, Belle, who are at liberty on bonds totaling $50,000 pending their arraignment Monday on charges of murder in the first degree in connection with the elder Check's death.

ELGIN GETS CORD TIRES.
Prices on the Elgin have not been lowered but increased value is being given through the addition of cord tires as equipment, according to A. C. Monkhouse, of Miller & Monkhouse, Elgin distributors.

"The purchaser of an Elgin may now have his choice of any cord manufactured," said Monkhouse today. "This is in direct line with the policy of the manufacturer to give Elgin buyers the greatest value possible."

DROVE OXEN WEST.
PARIS, Ky., Nov. 20.—Leaving Paris sixty-two years ago to try his fortune in the Far West, making the trip from Paris to Jefferson City, Mo., by driving a pair of oxen to a wagon, Paul L. Day, now 88 years old, arrived in Paris for his first visit to his old home. Day now lives in Cheyenne, Wyo. In marked contrast to his trip West was his return, which was made by automobile the entire distance.

USE PROPAGANDA IN ANTI-ALIEN LAND MATTER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—No immediate fight will be made upon the legal points of the alien land law, according to a decision by the executive committee of the Japanese Association of America, in session here. The only step to be taken, ac-

According to K. Kanzaki, general secretary of the association, is to be an educational campaign along the line of Americanization. A resolution passed at the meeting reads as follows: Whereas, in spite of the passage of the alien land law we are assuming that the majority of Japanese will stay in this country, finding necessary means of living; and Whereas, it is the purpose of this association to implant a spirit of earnestness and sincerity in the minds of Americans as regards the object of the Japanese people in this country; Be it resolved, that a campaign of education along the line of Americanization be made and that a sum of money be appropriated for this purpose, and that propaganda be distributed by means of special lectures, posters, pamphlets, etc. Committee Named. A committee of three was named to handle this work. They are K. Kanzaki, secretary of the Japanese association; T. Chida, director of the Japanese Agricultural Association, and H. Watanabe, secretary of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco. This committee will hold a meeting in the near future and map out its campaign. K. Kanzaki said that the meeting was not specially called but was the regular monthly business meeting of the executive committee. He said that the above resolution was the only action taken in regard to the alien land law, but admitted that there were representatives at the meeting of all the Japanese affected by the alien land law in California, Nevada and Arizona. "There will be no question raised as to the legal status of the law at present," he said. Statements Discounted. Confronted with the written statement of a reputable citizen of this country recently from a trip to the Orient, which included a charge that the military of that country had ordered a census of 15,000 Japanese in California for the purpose of determining their attitude toward the United States, Kanzaki said he knew nothing about it. He said that the Japanese association, as the central head of thirty-nine Japanese associations, would know about such a move if one had been asked. The statement also said that conditions in relation to this country were worse than during the Russo-Japanese war and that unless something were done to relieve the tense situation there was apt to be a civil war in Japan. This Kanzaki also denied, but said that industrial conditions were very bad in Japan. He added that he did not believe a civil war threatened. PASADENA BUILDING 100 HOMES A MONTH. PASADENA, Nov. 22.—One hundred houses a month are being erected in Pasadena, according to City Building Inspector C. B. Bucknall. In the last three months, with November still incomplete, permits have been taken out for 299 houses.

Most of them are bungalows of five or six rooms, the average permit being for about $6000. With the additional permits being issued for hotels, apartments and additions, Bucknall estimates that new accommodations are being provided for about 200 families a month. Meanwhile, hundreds of new comers who cannot find houses are seeking shelter at the municipal auto parking ground in Brookside park. Receipts from that camp ground are showing a steadily mounting figure. The new casein glue made by the United States Forest Products Laboratory is so strong that when plywood is made with it this withstands after boiling for eight hours a shearing strain of 180 pounds to the square inch.

Motor-driven appliances to the number of 2,000,000, it is estimated, will be produced in 1920, washing machines, ironing machines, dish washers, vacuum cleaners, sewing machines and refrigerators being included. Chinese locomotive engineers have the gentlest sense of touch with the airbrake of any in the world. A break in two is almost unheard of, and there is very little damage to cars in shunting on Chinese railways. To date the National Forest Reservation Commission has approved for purchase 1,751.115 acres for national forest purposes in the mountain areas of the Eastern national forests.

Ski jumping has been evolved into a summer pastime by an American who has constructed an inclined platform, which is maintained in a slippery condition by a path of soap and lard. Zest is added to the slide by a jump of 25 feet over an open gap in the incline. Cities are increasing in population seven and a half times as fast as the rural districts, according to the Census Bureau. A motor freight service operating through Kansas and Nebraska has 150 motor trucks. New York State alone has over 400 motor express lines in operation. It is estimated that for the whole country there are not less than 5000 such lines in operation.
